

Liberty of the Theological Seminary. PRINCETON, N. J.

Presented by Mr. Samuel Agnew of Philadelphia, Pa.

Agnew Coll. on Baptism, No.

SCB 10259

REFLECTIONS,

By way of DIALOGUE,

On the NATURE of Original Sin, Baptismal Regeneration, Repentance, the New Birth, Faith, Justification, Christian Perfection, or Universal Holiness, and the Inspiration of the Spirit of God.

'Ημείς δε κηςύσσομεν Χζις ον ες αυχωμένον, 'Ιεδαίοις μεν σκάνδαλον, "Ελλησι δε μωςίαν. Ι Cor. i. 23.

σύτι λέγεις, ὧ Ελλην; σοφίαν ζητεις; Εχεις τὸν Χριςὸν, σοφίαν ὅνλα τῶ Παλρός. Οἱ μὲν γὰρ φιλόσοφοι περὶ ψυχρὰ κὰ ἀνόνηλα ἡχολήθησαν ὁ δὲ καυρὸς τὸν κόσμον ἔσωσε.

Νίκομουν τοίνυν το σῶμα. Για οίκη το πευμα εν σοι, καλ δι αὐτο δοθη σοι ή ζωή. Idem, in Rom. viii. 11.

Humbly Inscribed to the Most Reverend and Right Reverend the Lords the Archbishop:, and Bishops of ENGLAND.

The FIFTH EDITION, with an APPENDIX.

By VIN. PERRONET, A.M.

Vicar of Shoreham in Kent, and Chaplain to the Right Honourable Earl STANHOPE.

LONDON:

Printed and Sold by J. and W. OLIVER, in Bartholomew-Close near West Smithfield. 1767.

The state of the s

Calconstructor allowed

TOTHE

Most Reverend and Right Reverend

The LORDS the

ARCHBISHOPS and BISHOPS

OF '

ENGLAND.

and for many it was in the

My Lords,

Though the Obscurity of the Author cannot challenge the Honour he thus ventures to assume to himself; yet the great and important Doctrines here treated of, both of the sacred Writings, and of our own Church, will sufficiently plead his Excuse. And indeed, as your Lordships ought to be esteemed principal Guardians of such Doctrines; therefore the Patronage of them, so far as they appear to be such, must, in part at least, belong to your Lordships.

DEDICATION.

That Justification by Faith, which is one of the Doctrines here explained, has been variously understood, cannot, my Lords, be a Secret to you: But this can neither lessen the Truth, nor the Importance of it.

That it is a Doctrine of our own Church, none will venture to deny; though by the cold manner in which it is sometimes treated, one would go near to suspect, that some Gentlemen were quite tired of it.

It may certainly, my Lords, be asked, whether Men are always to hold Opinions, which cannot be defended by the Gospel; because they were once espoused by the Church?

DEDICATION:

My Lords, They who have a due Regard for the divine Authority of the Gospel, or for the Principles of the Reformation, cannot long be in Suspense about answering such a Question.

However, my Lords, till this really appears to be the Case of any of our Doctrines, it is in Charity to be hoped, that no Member of our excellent Church will either be ashamed of her Doctrines, or afraid to espouse them; lest he only prove ashamed of the Gospel of Christ.

How far, my Lords, the Agreement is here shewn between an antiquated Doctrine or two of our own Church, and that divine Gospel: And how far some dangerous and fatal Errors are laid open, which strike at the very Foundations

DEDICATION.

dations of Christianity; -- These are Points, which are humbly submitted to the unprejudiced Judgments of your Lordships, as well as to that of every other serious and wise Christian.—I am, with the greatest Deference and Respect,

My Lords,

CONTRACTOR OF THE

Your Lordships

most dutiful Son,

and Servant,

VIN. PERRONET.

PREFACE.

WHAT awful Words are these!
"If our GOSPEL be bid, it "is bid to them that are lost; in whom
"the God of this World hath blinded the

" the God of this World hath blinded the " Minds of them which believe not; lest the Light of the glorious GOSPEL of " CHRIST, who is the Image of God,

" should shine unto them (a).

Miserable, undone Souls! The Light, the Truth, the divine Excellency of the GOSPEL hid from them!

Thus the Almighty makes good his righteous Threatning; "because they "received not the Love of the Truth, "that they might be saved; for this "Cause God shall send them strong "Delusion, that they should believe a "Lye(b)."—How melancholy, how deplorable a State, to be thus deserted of God, and his divine Grace!

May the Lord fet these Reslections so home upon the Heart of every proud and obstinate Insidel, that he may find no Rest, till he is pluckt as a Brand out of the Fire!—But now, what shall we say of those

(a) 2 Cor. iv. 3, 4.

(b) 2 Thess. ii. 10-12.

those miserable Professor of Christianity, who may have largely contributed to the Sin and Run of those immortal Souls, by being a Scandal and Reproach to the Profession of the Gospel?--"It must needs be, says the blessed Jesus, that Offences come; but Wo to that Man by whom the Offence cometh (a)!"

Various Ways have those, who are called Christians, dishonoured the Christians tian Name.

Some, by Vices, which would even shock a sober Heathen .-- Some, by an uncharitable, furious, and intolerant Spirit .-Some, by an eager Pursuit after the Pleasures, or Riches, or Honours of Life. Surely, neither the fenfual, the lewd, the proud, the vain, the covetous, nor the ambitious Christian, can ever bring much Honour to the Religion of a crucified Jefus! A Religion, which injoins us Mortification, and Self-denial; Purity of Heart, and Holiness of Conversation; a lowly, humble, heavenly Mind; not to love the World, nor to be conformed to it; but to fet our Affections on Things above, not on Things on the Earth!

Therefore, when the Enemies of Christianity (who are skarp-sighted enough in every every Thing, but what concerns their eternal Salvation; when these) observe too many Professors of the Golpel thus tristing with it, can it be any Wonder that Insidelity gains Ground in the World? I presume it cannot.—For Insidelity, I am persuaded, will always gain Strength in Proportion as the Gospel loses its divine Efficacy on the Hearts and Minds of its Professors.

Let this divine Efficacy but shine forth in its full Lustre,—and Infidelity will lose its strongest Hold. For though the God of this World found Means to blind Mankind, even in the purest Times of the Gospel; yet it may be submitted, whether the Lives of Christians have not too long furnished him with his most dangerous and formidable Weapons?—Could Reason and Argument have disarmed him, he had been long since disarmed;—but something else is wanting.

However, it must be the Duty of every one, according to his Station, Circumstances, and Abinties, to endeavour to enforce the Gospel upon the Hearts of Men.—But which is the most promising Method to succeed? Is it not to propose it in its native Simplicity? This surely must be the most likely Way to bring down

down a Blessing upon our Endeavours. For though to accommodate its Doctrines either to the Prejudices of Philosophers; or to the Taste of a giddy, thoughtless and sceptical Age, might please some refined Reasoners; as well as a Multitude of others, who cannot relish a Religion which proposes a Cross and a narrow Way; yet this would be only betraying their Souls, and murdering of our own; though we might thus effectually escape the usual Charge of Enthusiasm.

I have therefore endeavoured, in the following Dialogue, to give a plain Account of some fundamental Doctrines of the Gospel of Christ, without knowing ly departing from it, either on the Right Hand, or on the Left.

Indeed it will appear, that I differ in fome Measure from the late learned and worthy Bishop of London (a), in relation to the "Spirit bearing witness with our Spi-" rit that we are the Children of God:" Yet I hope it is done in such a Manner, as could not give the least Offence, either to his Lordship, or any other truly wise and serious Christian.

His

(a) See his Lordship's Discourses preached at the Temple, Discourse the Eighth.

His Lordship has certainly proved, with great Strength of Reason, that there must be Two who bear witness; "and "that those Two are the Holy Spirit of "God, and our own Spirit:" Yet I must beg leave to enter my Dissent, where his Lordship denies "the Evidence of the "Spirit to be any secret Inspiration, or any Assurance conveyed to the Mind of the Faithful;" but intirely confines it to "the Evidence of Juch Works" as we perform by the Spirit," P. 247.

However, as at the Entrance of that Discourse, the Sentiments of that learned Prelate are so very just, and withal so very different from those of many Moderns, I can't avoid transcribing a Part of what is there mentioned.

His Lordship observes, that "to be "the Children of God is the greatest Privilege under the Gospel:—And as this is a New State, which belongs not to us by Nature; so our Entrance into it is stilled a New Birth; and we are said to be born again, and to be begotten again, "to the Hopes [of the Gospel]—And therefore as we receive our Spiritual Life from the Gist and Mercy of God, "he is our Father, and we are his Children.

" Children. Thus St Peter tells us, that " we are born again, not of corruptible Seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God,

" which liveth and abideth for ever."

1 Epistle i. 23.

"This new Life we receive by the "Ministration of the Spirit: The Pow-" ers which belong to this Life, and in " which it confists, depend upon the " Influences of the Spirit; and therefore we are said to be born of the Spirit. He " is the Earnest of our Inheritance; the " Pledge and Security which we receive from God of our future Immortality."

Page 227, 228.

I shall here only just enquire —Whether from this beautiful Account of our Spiritual Life; of the new Birth, and the Powers belonging to it; of the Ministration, Influences, and divine Offices of the Holy Spirit, a Person would not naturally conclude, that the Power of knowing we are the Children of God, must also proceed from some divine Influence or Operation upon the Soul (a)?

(a) See Page 88. of the following Dialogue, Note (b).

SOME FEW

REFLECTIONS

ONA

FUTURE STATE of THINGS;

Humbly offered to the ferious Confideration of fuch Moderns as disbelieve the Immortality of the Soul.

- I. Is not the most consummate Happiness worth feeking after?
- II. Is not the most consummate Misery worth avoiding?
- III. Must not the one or the other be our Portion hereaster, if the Gospel be true?
  - IV. But what if the Gospel be false?
- V. Why then, it must be allowed, that a true Christian is sadly disappointed! However, let us examine, what Hurt the Belief of a glorious Immortality has done him?

VI. We will admit, that this Belief has robbed him of many irregular Gratifications; deprived him of many fashionable Vices; restrained many craving Appetites; curbed many violent Passions; subdued many darling Desires; nay hindered him of all those worldly Possessions, which he could not enjoy with a good Conscience; and perhaps exposed him to the Laughter and Ridicule of a gay World; of many Free-thinkers and Free-livers.—All this we will suppose he has suffered for his Hopes of Immortality.

VII. But are these Hopes really worth all these Sufferings?

VIII. Let us fairly examine. — In general then, these Hopes have been a continual Feast to his Mind; and have constantly furnished out such inconceivable Joy and Happiness, as he would not have exchanged for the Possession of the whole World! Were they therefore not worth the whole World to Him; and even this upon the Supposition that his Hopes were ill-founded?

IX. But let us proceed next to enquire, how Matters stand with those Gentlemen who scorn to indulge any Hopes of this kind?

X. First, It must be granted, that as they have shook off all the Shackles of Religion, they certainly enjoy a Freedom, which the poor Believer does not. Therefore, as they are under under none of those flavish Restraints, they are at full Liberty to give a complete Swing to their Passions and Pleasures; to their Pride, Ambition, and Revenge.

XI. However, by way of Counter-balance, may not this free Indulgence sometimes cost them pretty dear? May it not prove to the Loss of their Reputations, their Peace, their Health, their Estates, and perhaps their Lives?

XII. But let us view these Gentlemen in the most advantageous Light.—Let us suppose they have so much Philosophy and Prudence, and Command of their Passions, that they are not Slaves to their Appetites; but that they avoid every outward Vice of the Age; and thus maintain a fair Reputation, and a sound Body:—Yet it is most evident, that notwithstanding they do not live the Life of a Beast, yet their highest Expectations are only to die the Death of a Beast!

XIII. Therefore, supposing there was nothing beyond the Grave; yet as such Persons deprive themselves of a present unspeakable Happiness arising from the Hopes of a glorious Immortality; — it cannot be, but they must certainly have the Disadvantage. So just and beautiful are the Sentiments of that ancient Philosopher, who declared, — "That if the Belief of the Soul's Immortality was a Mistake, it was however so delightful a Mistake, that he would not fuffer himself to be rob-" bed of it, as long as he lived! *

XIV. But can the gloomy Prospect of finking into Nothing afford this Pleasure ? - What a dreadful Gloom must possess that Mind which can believe it? - And what malicious Demon must possess that Man, who would deprive others of their Hopes of Immortality?

XV. And now, to finish this Address; let us do common Justice to the Gospel. - We have hitherto reasoned upon a Supposition, that the Gospel gave us a salse Account of Immortality. Let us now for Argument's Sake, suppose the Gospel is true :- Who then is the wife Man? - Is it he that has enjoyed during his whole Life, the reviving, lovely Prospect of endless Happiness; and which he will one Day enter upon? Or is it he that has deprived himself of that divine Pleasure in this World, and whose Portion is a dreadful Scene of Mifery in the other?

Quòd fi in hoc erro, quòd Animos hominum immortales esse credam, lubenter erro : nec mihi hunc errorem, quo delector, dum vivo, extorqueri volo. M. T. CICERO, de Senect.

SOME

REFLECTIONS,

By way of DIALOGUE, &c.

BETWEEN

PHILALETHES and EUGENIUS.

Eugenius.

Have often thought, my dear Friend, that eternal Salvation is a very weighty Affair; and therefore have been very defirous to know, What I must do to be saved?

Phil. It is a little unusual, my worthy Friend Eugenius, to see a Person of Birth and Fortune, especially of your Years, making so unfashionable an Enquiry. But when once the Spirit of God has effectually touched the Heart, neither Youth, nor Riches, nor Honours, can withstand the powerful Influence.

E. I have various Questions to trouble you with; but desire to be first informed, What is to be understood by Original Sin? For I think a learned Lutberan talks of no less than fixteen Opinions about it (a).

P. You certainly begin with a very proper Question: For till we know the true Foundation of our spiritual Disorders, we shall hardly be able to get rid of them. The Variety of Opinions concerning Original Sin, or any other Doctrine whatever, will have no other Effect on a wife and good Mind, than to make it the more careful in diftinguishing Truth from Falshood. It is commonly said of our learned and excellent Cudworth, that, in his Intellectual System, he had raised more Spirits than be could lay: And supposing this to be so; yet his Subject is not the less True, the less Weighty, or the less Important. So that, admitting there were many more Opinions about Original Sin, we have no further Concern with them, than only to endeavour to fix upon the right: And fince I cannot help you to a better, than that of our own Church, be pleased to hear what that is. Original Sin, according to her, " is the Cor-" ruption of every Man's Nature; whereby he is very far gone from original Righteoufness; and is of his own Nature inclined " to Evil: And which Corruption deserves

"God's Wrath, &c."
This is, in brief, what our Church fays (b):
And I think, as the Scripture speaks much to

(a) Ossander in Bishop Taylor's Polemical Discourses, page 452.

(b) Article IX.

to the same Purpose (a); so the unhappy Experience of Mankind will vouch for no small Part of it.—There is not, perhaps, any thing in divine Revelation, to which proud Reason stoops more unwillingly: And therefore it has found out numberless Glosses and Comments, rather than submit to a mortifying Doctrine, which represents all Mankind as a Race of degenerate, fallen Spirits.

E. Some, I know, have thought, that the Doctrine of Original Sin bears hard upon Divine Goodness.

P. Undoubtedly it does, as it has sometimes been explained. But if God has abundantly made up our original Loss; if, where Sin abounded, there Grace did much more abound (b), then every Divine Attribute remains safe and untouched. Perhaps indeed Mankind may not be able to comprehend the Reason, why infinite Wisdom should choose rather amply to repair that Loss, than to prevent it at first:—And if this be the Cause of our Unbelief, let us modestly remember, that we are but of Yesterday, and know nothing (c). That illustrious Heathen, Socrates, gained the Name of the wisest Man, by forming very humble Conceptions of buman Wisdom, in general;

B 4 and

(a) Gen. i 26, 27. Ch. ii. 17. Ch. iii. Psalm li. 5. Eccles. vii. 29. Rom. iii. 9, 19, 23. Ch. v. 6—21. Ch. vi. 23. Ch. vii. 14—25. Ch. viii. 6—8. 2 Cor. v. 14. Gal iii. 22. Ephes. ii. 3. Ch. iv. 22—24. See also St John iii. 3—8. 4 St Pet. i. 3, 4, 23. 1 St John iii. 9. Ch. v. 4, 18.

(b) Rom. v. 15-21. (c) Job viii. g.

and of his own in particular (a). But he that will know the Reasons of God's Dispensations, before he believes them, has neither the Wifdom of that Philosopher, nor the Modesty of a Christian.

I am not contending, my good Friend, for a blind, popish Faith, which implicitly submits itself to Man, or the Church: But when we have sufficient Reason to believe the Voice to be the Voice of God, there the Understanding ought to pay an entire and absolute Submission: And when once the Meaning of that Voice is clear to us, there is then left no room for difputing; but we ought rather to bide our selves in the Dust (b), and to receive it with the deepest Humility.

Let us now hear the Sentiments of a great Master of Reasoning, who was never charged with Bigotry or Enthusiasm. ___ " There is " one fort of Propositions, that challenge the bigbest Degree of our Assent upon bare Tes" timony; whether the Thing proposed agree " or disagree with common Experience, and " the ordinary Course of Things, or no. The Reason whereof is, because the Testimony is of fuch a One as cannot deceive, nor be deceived, and that is, of God himself. This carries with it Certainty beyond Doubt, Evidence beyond Exception. This is called by a peculiar Name, Revelation; and our

A ffent

(a) — Τῶ ὄνδι ὁ θεὸς σοφὸς εἶται – ἡ ἀνθρωπίνη σοφία ἐλίγε τιτὸς ἀξία ἐς ὶ κ) οὐδιεός. Plat. Apol. Socrat.

(b) Isai, ii. 10, 11.

" Affent to it, Faith; which as absolutely determines our Minds, as our Knowledge " itself; and we may as well doubt of our " own Being, as we can, whether any Re" velation from God be true. So that Faith is " a fettled and fure Principle of Affent and Af" furance, and leaves no manner of room for " Doubt or Hesitation — Faith is nothing else but an Assent founded on the bigisest Reason.

** — Reason is not injured or disturbed, but affisted and improved, by new Discoveries of Truth, coming from the eternal Foun"tain of all Knowledge.—Whatsoever is divine Revelation, ought to over-rule all our Opinions, Prejudices, and Interests, and

"hath a Right to be received with a full Af-

" fent.": Locke's Human Understanding, B.

iv. C. 16. §. 14. C. 18. §. 10.

E. I so far entirely agree with that great Man. But is not Baptism, in the Opinion of our Church, a spiritual Regeneration; by which, though we are born in Sin, and the Children of Wrath, we are made Members of Christ, Children of God, and Inheritors of the Kingdom of Heaven (a)?

P. It is as you fay. And our Church means by all this, that we have hereby a Title and Claim, through the Blood of Christ, to eternal Happiness: And which we shall certainly enjoy, if we continue faithful to our Baptismal Covenant.—But then, as we expect this, we are obliged, when grown up, "to crucify the "old Man, and utterly to abolish the whole "Body of Sin; to follow the Example of our Saviour Christ, and to be made like unto him; that as he died and rose again for us, so

B·5 are

(a) Office for Baptism, and the Church Catechism; and Art. 27.

"fhould we who are baptized, die from Sin, and rife again unto Righteousness, continually

"mortifying all our evil and corrupt Affections;

" and daily proceeding in all Virtue and Godliness of living (a)."

You feethen, my dear Eugenius, what is the constant Task of a Christian, if he designs to be the better for his Baptism.

E. I fee it very plainly. And withal, that, according to our Church, there is a Body of Sin remaining after Baptism; and consequently, that the Corruption of our Nature is not taken away by it.

P. That it is not, our Church expressly affirms (b): And our own Experience may abundantly convince us.—But it is against this Corruption, and all the Sins which flow from it, that we are daily to strive and petition. And God's holy Spirit, if it be not our own Fault, will give us the Victory (c). But we must,

(a) See the last Prayer in the Office of Baptism; and the Exhortation that follows it.

(b) Article 1X. Whoever compares the English with the Latin Article, will easily perceive, that by regenerated is there meant baptized. However we shall plainly see, that our Church means also something else by Regeneration, than merely Baptism.

(c) Rom. vi. 6, 11—15, 22. 1 Cor. xv. 56, 57. I must here observe, that with regard to these Words, must, my Friend, use great Diligence and Watchfulness; be often in Prayer, and never wilfully neglect any Means of Grace whatever (a). And then we need not doubt, but the Blood of Jesus Christ will cleanse us from all Sin(b).

" God's

E. I should be glad to be informed, whether St Paul speaks of himself, or of some other Person, in those remarkable Words, in the seventh of the Romans,—I am carnal, sold under Sin.—I see another Law in my Members, bringing me into Captivity to the Law of Sin.—O wretched Man that I am, who shall deliver me from the Body of this Death?—With the Mind, I myself serve the Law of God; but with the Flesh, the Law of Sin(c).

I must own, it was not disagreeable to me, to suppose that the Apostle spake of himself; because I thought, that, if so extraordinary a

Perfor

11—18. 2 St Pet. i. 5—11.

&quot;God's Holy Spirit, if it be not our own Fault, will igive us the Victory; — a certain learned Gentleman thus objected:—"Here, fays he, the Point turns on the Will of Man; which in P. 1. is wholly afcribed to the Power of God's Work on the Soul."—If other Readers should make the same Objection, I desire they would resteet, that what is mentioned, P. 1. relates to those first strong Convictions, which often, in a powerful manner, carry all before them: Whereas the other Passage relates to those gentle Workings of the Spirit, which are too often hindered by our own wilful Follies—See Ephes. iv. 30. Phil ii. 12, 13. 1 Thess. v. 19. 2 St Pet. i. 5—11.—This also will solve the very same Objection which was likewise made to Part of P. 21.

(a) St Matth. xxvi. 41. St Luke xi. 13. Ephes. vi.

(b) 1 St John i. 7. (c) Ch. vii. 14,23-25.

Person found himself thus intangled and overcome by Sin, I need not be much alarmed, if I often found myself in the same State.

P. It is greatly to be feared, Eugenius, that many others have made the same fatal Use of those Expressions; but I hope it will appear, that St Paul is not there speaking of himself; but of a very different Person.

And therefore let us hear him thus expoftulating in the preceding Chapter. Shall we continue in Sin, that Grace may abound? God forbid! How shall we that are dead to Sin, live any longer therein?—Knowing this, that our old Man is crucified with Christ, that the Body of Sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve Sin. For he that is dead, is freed from Sin. Now, if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with bim. Ch. vi. 1, 2, 6, 7, 8.

Now, is it possible to conceive, that he who was thus dead with Christ, and dead to Sin; and therefore, according to his own Declaration, freed from it; is it possible to conceive, that this very Person was, at this very time, fold under Sin, that is, was neither dead to it, nor freed from it?

Again, let us observe how he addresses himfelf to the Romans, in this very Chapter .-Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto Sin; but alive unto God, through Jesus Christ cur Lord. Let not Sin therefore reign in your mortal Body, that you should obey it in the Lusts thereof. Neither yeild ye your Members,

bers, as Instruments of Unrighteousness unto Sin: But yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the Dead. — But now, being made free from Sin, and become Servants to God, ye have your Fruit unto Holiness, and the End everlasting Life. Ver. 11, 12, 13, 22.

Is it possible now for any unprejudiced Perfon to believe, that the inspired Apostle could thus talk to others; whilst be himself was brought into Captivity to the Law of Sin?

Again, he expressly assures those Converts, in these remarkable Words, —" The Law of "the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, hath made " me free from the Law of Sin and Death." Ch. viii. 2.

But how was the Apostle made free from the Law of Sin and Death; whilft he was a Slave to the Law of both? Whilft he was carnol, fold under Sin; and under the Terrors of that Death, which is the Wages of it? Ch. vi. 23.—I know you have met with Writers, who have attempted to folve these Difficulties: But why will Men attempt to reconcile fuch Absurdities and Contradictions? Give me leave only to mention a Verse or two more out of this very Epistie. With how much Earnestness does this pious Man exhort those People to present their Bodies a living Sacrifice, boly, acceptable unto God, which is, fays he, your reafonable Service. This, he beseeches them to do, by the Mercies of God. And moreover, that they would not be conformed to this World; but that they would be transformed by the re-newing of their Mind, Ch. xii. 1, 2.

Is not this surprizing Advice from a Perfon who had just been telling of them, that be bimself was the very reverse of this Character? He conjures them by the very Mercies of God, to present their Bodies a living and boly Sacrifice; whilst he himself, with his own Flesh, was actually serving the Law of Sin! Surely, if it was but a reasonable Service for them, to present their Bodies an bely Sacrifice to God; it was full as reasonable for their Teacher to do the same. But could he present his Body a living Sacrifice, boly, and acceptable to God; whilft he was the Servant and Slave of Sin? Or could he follow the other Part of his Advice, to be transformed by the renewing of the Mind; and not to be conformed to this World? - For what is it to be conformed to this World; if the living in Sin be not? Or what is it to be transformed by the renewing of the Mind; but an entire Change of the Heart and Affections? And when they are thus changed, our outward Actions must certainly be changed too. We shall then ferve the Law of God, both inwardly and outwardly. There will be no room to fay, -With the Mind I ferve the Law of God; but with the Flesh the Law of Sin. Such a Servant of God, and Servant of Sin, is, in Truth and Reality, no Servant of God at all. For he that is Truth itself has affured us,that we cannot serve two [such] Masters—St. Matt. vi. 24.

But lastly, the same Apostle directs these Converts, - to put on the Lord Jesus Christ; and not to make Provision for the Flesh, to fulfil the Lusts thereof, chap. xiii. 14. From whence it seems evident, that he, who with the Flesh serves the Law of Sin, has not yet put on the Lord Fesus .- But shall we say, that this was the Case of the Apostle? That he had not put on Christ; though he admonished and exhorted those Christians to do it? Is not this to bring down an inspired Apostle to the level of those, who profess to know God; but in Works deny bim? In short, this is so shocking an Opinion, that I could wish all that hold it would calmly and impartially reflect, whether, First, it does not make the holy Apostle flatly contradict himself in the same Breath? Secondly, whether those Converts, being made free from Sin, were not much better Christians, than he was himself? And, Thirdly, whether St Paul did not give much better Advice, than he had yet taken?

I do not by any means charge those with holding these Consequences, who maintain that Opinion: I only intreat such to divest themselves of all Prejudice, as far as possible, and attentively consider, whether that Opinion, and these Consequences, are not inseparably connected?

E. Indeed I think the State there described is much more suitable to such a carnal Wretch as I am, than to so holy and mortised a Person as St Paul.—But I now beg to know, what must be done, when we have forseited the Benefit of our Baptismal Regeneration?

P. We must be recovered again, by the holy Spirit working in us true Repentance, and a living Faith in the Blocd of Christ (a); and this Recovery of us by Repentance and Faith (which our Church in her Catechism enjoins to all who are come to Age, without Exception, may be well called a Regeneration, or New Birth.

E. I should be glad to be informed, whether our Church calls any thing by the Name of Regeneration, or the New Birth, excepting Baptism; because this is a Point which is sometimes disputed.

P. You will soon be able to judge of such Disputations: And therefore be pleased to observe, in the first Place, that in the Homily for Whitsunday, after mention is made of the Power of the Holy Ghost, in altering and changing of Mankind, and making us New Men in Christ Jesus, it thus follows,—

"Such is the Power of the Holy Ghost to regenerate Men, and, as it were, to bring " them forth a-new, so that they shall be nothing like the Men that they were before.

" Neither doth [the Holy Spirit] think it

" fufficient inwardly to work the spiritual and

" New-Birth of Man, unless he do also dwell

" and abide in him."

And

(a) St Luke xxiv. 47. Acts viii. 22, 23. Chap. xx. 21. Rom. iii. 25. Chap. v. 1. Ephes. ii. 3. 2 Tim. ii. 25, 26.

And at the Conclusion, we have the following Words, -- " Humbly befeeching " [God] fo to work in our Hearts, by the " Power of his holy Spirit, that we being " regenerate, and newly born again in all Goodness, Righteousness, Sobriety, and "Truth, may, in the end, be made Par-" takers of everlasting Life in his heavenly "Kingdom (a)." - Moreover, what is it to be raised from the Death of Sin unto the Life of Righteousness (b)? - What is it to be newcreated from a wicked Person to a righteous Man; which our Church mentions from St Austin (c)? What is it so truly to repent, as to be clean altered and changed; and to become New Creatures; and to walk in a New-Life as New-born-Babes (d)?

What is it to be daily renewed by the Holy Spirit (e)? What is it to have New Hearts created in us (f)? What do all these various Expressions mean, but the very same Thing with being regenerate and newly born again?

Moreover, what else does the Holy Ghost design by that New Heart and New Spirit, which are promised to true Penitents (g)?

What

(b) Last Collect in the Funeral Office.

(a) Hom. for Whitsunday, Part i. p. 276, 278. Edit. London, 1726.

(c) Hom. for Rogation-week, Part i. p. 286. (d) Hom. of Repentance, Part ii. p. 327, 328.

(e) Collect for Christmas-day.

(f) Collect for Ash-wednesday.

(g) Ezek. xi. 19. Ch. xviii. 31. Ch. xxxvi. 26.

What else does our Holy Lord mean by this Saying,-" Except ye be converted, and " become as little Children, ye shall not enter " into the Kingdom of Heaven (a)?" What else does St Paul mean by the being transformed by the renewing of the Mind (b)? What else is to be understood by mortifying the Deeds of the Body through the Spirit: And by crucifying the Flesh, with the Affections and Lusts (c)? What is it to set the Affections on Things above; to put off the old Man; to be renewed in the Spirit of the Mind; and to put on the new Man, which, after God, is created in Righteousness and true Holiness (d)? What does the same Apostle mean in two Places, by a New Creature (e); but only such a Person as St Chrysostom describes in the following Manner? He is turned into a New Creature: For be is born again [or from above] through the Spirit (f). But still further; What can St Peter design by these following Words,-" being born again of incorruptible Seed, by the Word of God, which livelb and abideth " for ever (g)? Or what does St John mean, when he declares, that "Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit Sin; _that What foever " is born of God, overcometh the World; And

(e) 2 Cor. v. 11. Gal. vi. 15.

(b) Rom. xii. 2. (a) St Matth. xviii. 3.

(c) Rom. viii. 13. Gal. v. 24. (d) Ephes. iv. 22-24. Colos. iii. 1, 2, 9, 10.

(f) Eis ετέραν ήλθε δημιωργίαν, η γαρ ανώθεν εγενήθη δια πνεύμα θ. in 2 Cor. v. 11. Edit. Commel. 1603. p. 819. M. (g) 1 Epist. i. 23.

that "Whosoever is born of God, sinneth not; " but be that is begotten of God, keepeth him-" self; and that wicked One toucheth bim " not (a)?" ___ So that not only our own Church, but what is of infinitely greater Authority, the Divine Oracles, feem plainly to call this entire Change of the whole Man, by the Name of Regeneration (b), or New-Birth. I omit those other Passages in the sacred Writings, where our Blessed Lord speaks of the being born again; born of Water, and of the Spirit (c): and where St Paul mentions our being saved by the washing of Regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost (d); because they immediately relate to the miraculous Effects of the Holy Spirit in Baptism. However, with regard to the new creating a Sinner from a wicked Person to a righteous Man, which St Austin affirms to be a greater Miracle than to make a new Heaven and Earth (e); I say, with regard to this, whoever is thus altered and changed, and, as it were, new created by the Spirit of God, though many Years after his Baptism, is surely as much born of the Spirit, as the Person who is regenerated at the time he is baptized. It is evidently one and the same Spirit, that works; and indeed the same Work of that Spirit; only manifest-

(a) 1 Epist. iii. 9. Ch. v. 4, 18.

 (b) 'Αναγεινήσας ἡμᾶς — Having begotten us again,
 1 St Pet. i. 3. — ἀναγερωννημένοι, being born again, Chap. i. 23.

(c) St John iii. 3, 5. (d) Titus iii. 5. (e) Hom. for Rogation-week, Part i. P. 286.

ing his divine Power at different Seasons. For instead of being a Child of Wrath, the Sinner is become a Child of Grace; a Member of Christ; a Child of God; and an Inheritor of the Kingdom of Heaven. He is to be henceforth dead unto Sin, and alive unto God; and to put on the new Man, which, after God, is created in Righteousness and true Holiness. And therefore, both from the Nature of the Thing, as well as from the Nature of the Expressions used in the facred Writings, such a thorough and entire Change of the Heart and Affections, wrought by the Holy Spirit of God, may, with the greatest Propriety, be called a Regeneration or New Birth. two famous Fathers, just mentioned, do, in effect, give it this Name (a). Our Church, you fee, expressly calls it so; and she has manifeltly abundant Reason for for doing; fince fuch a Renewal of the whole Man, is the being born again, - at what Time or Season, or under what Circumstances soever, this spiritual Birth may happen.

E. As I find they are evidently mistaken, who suppose our Church calls nothing by the Name of a Regeneration or New Birth, but only Baptism: So, what is of the highest Concern to me, I find very plainly the Need I have of being thus regenerated or born again by the Holy Spirit.

P. Be

(a) See also St Chrysoftom on Gal. iv. 19. Page 1010, where we meet with this in express Words, ἀναγεινήσεως ετίξας ὑμῖν δεῖ, καὶ ἀναπλάσεως — You want another Regeneration, and to be formed anew.

P. Be thankful, my dear Friend, that the Holy Spirit has begun this great Work in you: For the first Step in order to a spiritual New Birth, is to be thoroughly convinced of the Danger we are in from Sin. The Holy Spirit must work this Conviction (a) in us; and excite some Desires in our Hearts of being delivered from the Wrath to come (b). So that this is a very happy Beginning; but the Misfortune of too many is, they either fee not their Danger, or, when they do, yet they like not this uneasy State; and therefore are apt to fly from it, and consequently, from their own Salvation. However, I am perfuaded, that this will never be your Case.

E. I hope in God, it never will: And therefore defire to know, what is to be done upon fuch Conviction?

P. Fly immediately to Christ; who has invited all beavy-laden Sinners to come to him; and has promised to give them rest (c).

E. But does not our holy Lord fay, -No man can come to me, except the Father, which bath sent me; draw bim (d)? How then can

I go to Christ?

P. Remember, my dear Eugenius, that when the Holy Spirit has any way opened your Mind, by any Means or Method whatever, and thus convinced you of your State, and has touched your Heart to fly to a Saviour.

(a) St John xvi. 8. Acts xxvi. 18. (b) Ch ii. 37. Ch ix. 6. Ch. xvi. 29, 30. 1 Thefs.

i. 10. St Matth. iii. 7. (c) St Matth. xi. 28. (d) St John vi. 44.

viour, God then draws you to Christ; and you must immediately run to him.

And further, it is our Duty often to implore, that God would lighten our Darkness; and to pray with pious Elibu,— That which I see not teach thou me (a).

Our blessed Saviour assures us, that be stands at the Door and knocks (b): But the great Missortune of Mankind is, that they turn a deaf Ear to him; though he thus graciously and frequently admonishes every one, —be that hath Ears to hear, let him hear (c). As if our holy Lord had said,—Let each carefully attend to my Voice; that I may no longer call in vain.

And moreover, all should remember, that God is perpetually calling every Sinner to Repentance by his divine Gospel (d); and therefore every Sinner has a constant Call to sly to Christ. And indeed to whom else shall we go? For he only has the Words of eternal Life (e): he is the Way, and the Truth, and the Life: and no Man cometh unto the Father, but by him (f). — Let therefore every Sinner sly to him, without delay; for he, and he only, is their City of Refuge.

E. You give me great Encouragement to go to Christ; but my manifold Sins and Corruptions are enough to deter me.

P. Know

(a) Job xxxiv. 32. (b) Rev. iii. 20. (c) St Matth. xi. 15.

(d) St Mark i. 15. St Luke xxiv. 47. Acts ii. 38. Ch. xvii. 30. Rom. ii. 4. Ephes. v. 14. (e) St John vi. 68. (f) Ch. xiv. 6.

P. Know you not, that the Lord fefus came not to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance: and that the Whole need not a Physician, but they that are Sick (a)? The felf-righteous, and such as are whole in their own Eyes, see but little Want of the great Physician of Souls; very little Want of a Saviour. They may often hear his gracious Voice; but not perceiving the miserable State they are in; (their own Self-righteousness having blinded their Eyes) they can only approach Christ in a mere formal manner; but feel not that they are lost and undone without him.

These are the very Persons whom our holy. Lord thus describes, —— Thou sayest I am rich, and increased with Goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked (b).

Let not then the Sight of your Corruptions keep you from Christ, but rather persuade you immediately to fly to him. However, be careful to approach him, like a true returning, contrite Sinner; like one, who sees his Danger, and is desirous to avoid it.—
Therefore thus confess every Sin of your Soul. Humbly beseech the Lord Jesus that you may be washed from your Sins in his Blood (c); and that you may have the full Benesit of that Fountain which is opened for Sin and for Uncleanness (d). That you may be cleansed from that Corruption of your Nature, that polluted Heart; from whence have proceeded every evil Thought, and every evil Work (a). That you may be delivered from that Law which wars against the Law of your Mind, and brings you into Captivity to the Law of Sin. That you may be delivered from that carnal Mind, which is Enmity against God: For it is not subject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be (b). Pray that the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, may make you free from the Law of Sin and Death (c).

(a) St Luke v. 31, 32. (b) Rev. iii. 17. (c) Rev. i. 5. (d.) Zechar. xiii. 1.

Sincerely labour to bring forth Fruits meet for Repentance (d); to avoid all Sin, and every Occasion of it; and, to the best of your Abilities, to obey every Precept of the Gospel. ____ Strive to undo every thing you have done amis: And, to the utmost of your Power, make Restitution (e). Petition for that true godly Sorrow, which worketh Repentance to Salvation; pray earnestly and constantly that the Holy Spirit may always affift you; may open your Mind and influence your Heart; and carry you through the whole Work: And that he may compleat in you Repentance towards God; and Faith towards our Lord Jesus Christ (f).

Them, who thus come unto Christ; or, which is the fame thing, them, who thus come unto God by him, he is able [and ready] to save to the uttermost: Seeing he ever liveth to make Intercession for them (a).

(a) Pfalm li. 5. St Matth. xv. 18, 19. (b) Rom. vii. 23, 24. Ch. viii. 7.

(c) Rom. viii. 2. (d) St Matth. iii. 8.

(e) Job xx. 18. Ezek. xxxiii. 15. St Luke xix. 8,9. (f) Acts xx. 21. Philip. i. 6.

E. I pray God grant I may be of that Number: But I beg to know, in how many Respects Christ is a Saviour to us?

P. Christ faves us from the Power of Satan(b). He faves us from the Guilt of Sin, and the Punishment (c) due to it. He likewise faves us from the Dominion of it; from its reigning and condemning Power (d) --- He is a Saviour, and mighty to fave (e), in all these respects: But if we resule him in one, we resule him in all. He will save none in their Sins: For he came on purpose to save us from them (f). God sent him to bless us, in turning away every one of us from his Iniquities (g).

The great Design of Christ was to make an end of Sin; and to bring in everlasting Righte-ousness (b). Therefore whoever will not be turned from bis Iniquities, he opposes the great Designs of Christ. He is for keeping out everlasting Righteousness; by not suffering Sin to be made an end of. For how is Sin to be made an end of, whilst he continues it both in his Heart and Practice? Or how is everlasting Righte-

(a) Heb. vii. 25.

(b) Acts xxvi. 18. Colos. i. 13. Heb. ii. 14, 15.

(c) Ephes. i. 7. Rev. i. 5. Rom. v. 9. 1 Thess. i. 10.

(d) Rom. vi. 6, 7, 11—15, 18, 22. ch. viii. 2—4. 1 Cor. xv. 56, 57.

(e) Isaiah lxiii. 1. (f) St Matth. i. 21.

(g) Acts iii. 26. (b) Daniel ix. 24.

Righteousness to be brought in, whilft he keeps it out of his Heart and Actions (a)?

If a Man should fancy he might still be blest with this everlasting Righteousness, though he persisted in his Sins and Wickedness, let him hearken to the Words of the holy Spirit just mentioned,—God sent [Christ] to bless us, in turning away every one of us from his Iniquities. Consequently that Man cannot be blest by Christ; he cannot have a share in the Blessing of Christ's everlasting Righteousness, who will not be turned from his Sins. Nothing is more evident to a Man, who can but open his Eyes.

E. To me, I must own, the Matter appears perfectly plain: And therefore may I be truly and effectually turned from all mine. But now, since there must be Faith as well as Repentance, I desire to know, whether they must be united; or whether one is to come before the other?

P. You are to observe, that as Repentance and Remission of Sins are to be preached in the Name of Christ; and it being through him only that we are reconciled to God (b); it is impossible either to go to Christ, or to God thro' him, or in his Name, without at least some general Belief that Christ is the Propitiation for the Sins of the World.

E. But

(a) This was the Paragraph referred to; P. 7, Note c.

<sup>(5)</sup> St Luke xxiv. 47. Acts xiii. 32. 2 Cor. v. 18, 19. Ephes. ii. 13-18.

E. But is this the Faith, by which we are faid to be justified?

P. It is not: You will find justifying Faith to be a different thing.

E. Pray, what is meant by Justification?

P. The Remission or Forgiveness of Sins (a).

E. But how am I to understand these Sayings of St Paul, that a Man is justified by Faith, without the Deeds of the Law (b): And that by the Works of the Law, shall no Flesh be justified (c)?

P. Saint Paul evidently designs to affirm, that neither the Law of Nature, nor the Law of Moses could justify Sinners. For as all Mankind

C 2

(a) It is certain that Justification is properly a forensic Term; and taken in its sull Extent, is of a very comprehensive Meaning. It implies a judicial Sentence, by which the Sinner is absolved from Guilt, and consequently discharged from Punishment.

And moreover, through the same Faith, by which we are thus justified, we become the Sons of God, and receive a Title to the Heavenly Inheritance *. St John i. 12, 13. Gal. iii. 24, 26. Ch. iv. 6, 7. Rom. viii. 17.

Ephes. ii. 4.

However, as the Remission or Forgiveness of Sins necessially implies a Discharge both from Guilt and Punishment, and can only be embraced by that Divine Faith, which gives a Title to our being Sons of God, and Heirs of his Kingdom; therefore Justification may be very well explained. in general, by the Forgiveness or Remission of Sins. — And indeed the Apostle himself seems plainly to describe it under this general Notion. —— See Rom. iii. 24—26. Ch. iv. 5—8. Homily of Salvation, Part I. Page 11.

(b) Rom. iii. 28. (c) Gal. ii. 16.

* See the learned Garaker on Ifaiab v. 23. Ch. liii. 11. And the late Reverend and Pious Dr Doddridge on Rem. iii. 20. Note a ; where he also quotes the learned Vitringa.

kind were become guilty before God (a), and stood condemned by the one Law, or by the other; it was impossible for them to be acquitted by either. But God of his free Grace engaged to justify or pardon a sinful World, upon a living Faith in the Blood of his Son (b). However, this Faith was to be preceded by unfeigned Repentance (c): And to discover its Truth and Reality, as Opportunity offered, by sincere and universal Obedience (d).

But still, we are not to imagine that our Faith has any more Merit than our Works. Our Justification or Pardon proceeds entirely from the free Grace of God in Christ: And it is embraced, or applied to the Soul by such a Faith, as the Holy Spirit must work in us (e).

Hence

(a) Rom. iii. 9, 19, 20, 23.

(b) Ch. iii. 21, 22, 24, 25. Gal. ii. 16. Ch. iii. 26. Ch. v. 6 Ephes. i. 7. Ch. ii. 5, 8.

(e) Acts ii. 38. Ch. xx. 21. Ch xxvi 18, 20.

(d) St Matth. vii 21. St John xiv. 15, 21, 23, 24. Ch. xv. 14, 16. Col i. 10. Heb xiii 21. 1St Pet. i. 2. 2 Epist. i 5—8. 1 St John ii. 3—5. Ch. iii. 3—10.

(e) St Mark ix. 24. St Luke xvii 5. St John i 12, 13. 2 Cor. iv. 13. Gal. v. 22. Ephes ii 8. Philip. i 29. Ch. ii. 13. 2 Thess. i 11. 2 Peter i. 1. "Faith, says a very learned and worthy Prelate, "which is the "Principle of the Gospel, respects the Promises and Declatrations of God, and includes a sure Trust and Reliance on bim for the Performance:" Bp Sherlock's Discourses, the last Disc. and Part 1. But I must be gleave here to add, that this Faith is not the Product of Reading, Study, or Resection; but the pure genuine Work of the Spirit of Christ. This appears from most of the Texts above referred to: And indeed thus much may sufficiently be concluded, from the very Nature of it. For since it is a Principle

Hence it is, that we are sometimes said to be justified by God, or by bis Grace; sometimes by the Blood of Christ, or the Redemption which is in bim; and sometimes by Faith (a).

The free Grace, or Goodness of God, may be called the First, or Principal or Efficient Cause of our Justification; the Blood of Christ, or in other Words, what Christ has done and suffered, is the meritorious Cause of it; and that Faith, by which we embrace our Pardon or Justification, may be esteemed, as it were, the Instrument (b) of it. And when the Holy Spirit has wrought this Faith in a mourning Sinner, how welcome to the Soul must be that joyful Voice!—Son, be of good cheer, thy Sins be forgiven thee (c). For being justified by C 3

Principle by which the Heart is purified, and which discovers itself by [a divine] Love to God and Man [Acis xv.o. Ch. xxvi. 18. Gal. v. 6.] it must demonstrate its Origin to be from Heaven. As it is evidently a Part of our new Creation, it must be like every other Part, the Work of God; and thus it is called in express Terms,-Faith of the Operation of God, Colos. ii. 12. - Faith, της ένεργείας τε Θεθ,-Faith, wrought by the Energy, or efficacious Power of God: And therefore it is no wonder it should make so considerable a Part of the Armour of God, Ephes. vi. 13, 14, 16, compared with 1 Thess. v. 8.-However, though it be not a Faith of our own working; it is a Faith that may be procured by our own bonest and earnest Diligence. Seek it by bumble and constant Prayer, and thou shalt find it. - Therefore, if thou hast it not, lay the Fault on thyself only.

(a) Rom. iii. 24, 25. Ch. v. 1, 9. Ch. viii. 33. Tit. iii. 7.

(b) Hom. of the Passion, Part II. p. 258, 259.

(c) St Matth. ix. 2.

Faith, we have PEACE with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ (a) .- He is our Peace (b); baving made Peace, through the Blood of his Cross (c). He is our Propitiation, or Mercyfeat(d), ibrough Faith in his Blood. To such as approach this Mercy seat by a living Faith, God discovers himself a reconciled Father(e). At that instant, his divine Kingdom begins to be set up in the Soul: And where this Kingdom is, Peace will discover itself. For the Kingdom of God is Righteousness, and Peace, and foy in the Holy Ghost (f). - Consequently, Peace with God appears to be the certain Refult of justifying Faith: And our Church's Notion of such a Faith seems perfectly right. -" This, the fays, is given us of God; and is a sure Trust and Confidence in God, that by the Merits of Christ [a Man's] Sins be " for given and he reconciled to the Favour of-" God, and to be Partaker of the Kingdom of 44 Heaven by Christ (g)." Again, 44 Faith is s faid to be a fure Trust and Considence in the Mercies of God: whereby we perfuade our-" selves, that God both bath, and will for-" give our Sins; that he bath accepted us " again into his Favour; that he bath released us from the Bonds of Damnation," &c. " We must apprehend the Merits of Christ's " Death (a) Rom. v. 1. (b) Fphes. ii. 14. (c) Colos. i. 20. (d) 'Inashgiov. Rom. iii. 25.

(c) Colos. i. 20. (d) Thas he io. Rom. iii. 25. (e) Ch. v. 8—11. 2 Cor. v. 18, 19. Ephes. ii. 16—18. 1 Tim. ii. 5, 6. Heb. vii. 25. Ch. x. 19—22.

(f) Rom. xiv. 17.

(g) Hom. of Salvation, Part III. p. 16, 17.

" Death and Passion-with a strong and sted-" fast Faith, nothing doubting but that Christ"—bath taken away Our Sins, and bath " restored us again into God's Favour (a)." Elsewhere we meet with what follows, -" Thou hast received [our Saviour Jesus Christ] " if in true Faith and Repentance of Heart " thou hast received him .- Thou bast received " his Body, to endow thee with everlasting "Righteousness, to assure thee of the everlast-" ing Blis and Life of thy Soul. For with " Christ, by true Faith, art thou quickened "again, — from Death of Sin, to Life of Grace (b)." And only to mention one Place more, - " A fure and constant Faith, " not only that the Death of Christ is available " for the Redemption of all the World, for " the Remission of Sins, and Reconciliation with God the Father; but also that he hath " made, upon his Cross, a full and sufficient " Sacrifice for thee, a perfect cleanling of thy ". Sins ; and that thou mayest say with the " Apostle, that he loved thee, and gave him-

" felf for thee (c)."

So that justifying Faith, according to our Church, and, I prefume, according to the Apostle, is such a Faith wrought by the Holy Spirit, as causes a Man firmly to believe that bis Sins are actually forgiven; that God in Christ is reconciled to him, and that Christ is become a Propination for his Sins in particular. These are the Sentiments of our Church; and they appear to be excellently founded. And where is the Wonder, if from hence should arise great Comfort and Satisfaction to the Mind: Since being thus justified by Faith, a Man must bave Peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ? But now this Faith is the Operation of God (a), or of his Holy Spirit, as has been already observed; and it will be wrought in every fincere Penitent, when infinite Wisdom shall judge it proper. And as fuch a Faith is the Substance or Foundation of Things hoped for; and the Evidence, or Conviction, of Things not seen (b): As such a Faith will, in time, purify the Heart (c) entirely; will quench all the fiery Darts of the Wicked (d); and give us the Victory over this World (e); is it at all to be wondered at, that so divine a Principle should enable us to embrace the Promises of God in Christ; and that our Justification should be ascribed to it, in the manner we have explained?

(a) Hom. of the Passion, Part II. p. 258.

(b) Hom. of the Resurrection, p. 262.

(c) Hom. of the Sacrament, Part I. p. 269.

Our Church may certainly, with the highest Reason, declare, that the being justified by Faith only, is a most wholesome Doctrine, and very full of Comfort (f).

For

(a) Colos. ii. 12. Hom. of Salvation, Part I. p. 13. Part III. p. 16.

(b) Heb. xi. 1.

(c) Acts xv. 9.

(d) Ephes. vi. 16.

(e) 1 St John v. 4.

(f) Article XI.

For if it be the Dostrine of the boly Spirit, as is manifestly evident, it must surely be a most wholesome Dostrine: And if the Peace of God be the certain Consequence of being justified by Faith, as the Spirit of Truth affirms, it is manifestly a Dostrine full of Comfort. And withal, since the Spirit of God has so often mentioned (a) it, I must take leave to think, that it is a Dostrine of no small Importance.

E. Is it then possible for a Person ever to know when his Sins are pardoned? For this

I have observed to be often questioned.

P. There is nothing, Eugenius, which Men may not question, when they are so disposed. But I believe you will think there is little Reason to make any Doubt of this, when you have considered it a little further.—Pray attend to the Words of our holy Lord,—Come unto me, all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you Rest (b).

But now, is it possible for the labouring, and beavy laden Sinner to have Rest; and yet not to know it? Can a wounded Conscience be bealed; and the Man not be sensible of it? Can God speak foy and Peace to the Soul(e); and yet that Soul be a Stranger to foy and Peace? Is not a guilty awakened Conscience

c 5 like

(c) Rom xv. 13.

(a) Acts xiii. 38, 39. Rom. iii. 22, 25, 26, 28, 30. Ch. iv. 5. Ch. v. 1. Ch. ix. 30—32. Gal. ii. 16. Ch. iii. 11, 14, 22, 24, 26. Ch. v. 5, 6 Ephes. ii. 8. Philip. iii. 9. (b) St Matth. xi. 28.

like the troubled Sea, when it cannot rest? There is no Peace, saith my God, to the Wicked (a). Such a State is a Hell upon Earth; there is nothing but Tumult, and Horror, and Despair. But when once such a Conscience is washed by the Blood of Christ (b), there is a Calm, and Peace, and Comfort.

And cannot the Man, do you think, easily find a Difference between the two States? It may as well be questioned, whether a Man knows the Difference between being upon a Rack, and lying at Ease in his Bed: This spiritual Discernment our Church speaks of in more Places than one.

"If after Contrition, fays our Church, we feel our Consciences at Peace with God, through Remission of our Sin, and to be reconciled again to his Favour; — Who worketh these great Miracles in us? — God give us Grace to know these Things, and to feel them in our Hearts (c)." Again, speaking of the blessed Sacrament, she uses this Expression, — "Here [the Faithful] may feel wrought the Tranquillity of Conscience, (d) &c." And in another Homily, speaking of a true lively Faith, we have these Words,—"If you feel and permit ceive such a Faith in you, rejoice in it (e)." And in the Visitation Office, this is one of the Petitions, (a) Isaiah v. 7, 20, 21.

(b) Heb. ix. 14. Colos. i. 20. 1 St John i. 7. Rev. i 5.

(c) Hom. for Rogation-week, Part. III. p. 292, 293. (d) Hom. of the Sacrament, Part J. p. 269.

(e) Hom. on Faith, Part III, p. 26.

Petitions,-" Make thee know and feel that " there is none other Name-in whom, and " thro' whom, thou mayest receive Health " and Salvation." And in the same Office, in the Prayer for Persons troubled in Mind or in Conscience, these are part of the Petitions, _" Make him to hear of Joy and Gladness, " that the Bones which thou hast broken may " rejoice. Deliver him from fear of the " Enemy, and lift up the Light of thy Coun-" tenance upon him, and give him Peace, &c." What is this bearing of Joy and Gladness, and this rejoicing of broken Bones, but a spiritual Discernment of Comfort in that Conscience, which was before broken and wounded by a Sense of Guilt? Or what is this Deliverance from fear of the Enemy; and the lifting up the Light of God's Countenance, and giving Peace, but freeing a troubled Soul from the Darkness and Horrors of Despair; and from the fiery Darts of the Devil, which a Christian is to quench by the Shield of Faith (a): And to cause that dark and troubled Soul to see that Light of Life, and to feel that Peace of God, which passeth all Understanding (b)? And moreover, what does our Church mean by this Petition at the Conclusion of the Litany, _O Lamb of God, that takest away the Sins of the World, grant us thy Peace? What can the mean by the Calm of Conscience, which must always arise from a Sense of the pardon-

(a) Ephes. vi. 16.

(b) St John viii. 12. Philip. iv. 70

ing Love of God? Pray, observe how she represents the Agonies of a real Penitent; — Pitifully behold the Sorrows of our Hearts. The Remembrance of [our Sins] is grievous unto us: The Burden of them is intolerable. Receive and comfort us, who are grieved and wearied with the Burden of our Sins (a).

Undoubtedly such as speak these Things from the Heart, must always be thoroughly sensible when these piercing Sorrows; when these grievous and intolerable Burdens are removed. Though, indeed, as for those who repeat these Sentences only by rote; who feel no Burden, who experience no Sorrows of Heart; how is it possible they should perceive the Removal of that, which they never once felt? But then as this Load is not like to be removed, till Men do really seel it; may the Holy Spirit effectually work in them a spiritual Discernment, that they may no longer trisse with God and their own Salvation.

E. I am fully fatisfied, both from the Nature of the Thing, and from the Sentiments of our own Church, that Men may very fenfibly perceive when God has absolved them from their Guilt.—God grant I may one Day, through the Merits of Christ, have the same bleffed Experience!

P. I doubt not, my dear Friend, but you will. However, this ought carefully to be remembered, remembered, that every justified Person must not immediately look for a perpetual Calm; or to be always free from many, and perhaps fevere Temptations: But still he will find Grace to help in time of Need (a). He is no longer the Servant of Sin (b). Nor will God suffer bim to be tempted above that he is able; but will with the Temptation also make a Way to escape, that he may be able to bear it (c). However, if there should be, for some time, a Succession of Light and Gloominess, of Hope and Doubting; these should not disquiet a Christian; or cause him to mistrust the Safety of his Condition. But he ought constantly to persevere in humble Prayer, with Patience and Submission: And God's Holy Spirit will carry him on from Strength to Strength; and from one Degree of Faith and Holiness to another (d).

(a) See the latter End of the Litany; the general Confession in the Communion-Office; and the Commination-Service.

E. But how may this true justifying Faith be distinguished from that which is false and counterfeit; which St James says is dead, and which cannot fave or justify (e)?

P. They may very easily be distinguished, with a little Care and Attention. True justifying Faith not only brings Peace to the Mind, but is a living Principle of Universal Obedience; discovering itself by an unseigned Love to God and

(a) Heb. iv. 16. (b) Rom. vi. 6.

(c) 1 Cor. x. 13.

(d) Pfalm lxxxiv. 7. St John i. 16. Rom. i. 17. Ephes. iv. 13. Philip. i. 6.

(e) St James ii. 14, 17, 20, 22, 24, 26.

and Man. Inclining us to walk in every Command of Christ; and to endeavour to bring forth much Fruit; and even to be filled with the Fruits of Righteousness (a). This is that Breast-plate of Righteousness, or of Faith and Love, which Christians are directed to arm themselves with (b) .-- Whereas the Faith which is condemned by St James, is a Faith destitute of the Love of God and Man: A Faith which brings not forth the Fruits of the Gospel: But is barren and dead; and therefore vain, and void of all Efficacy. - Such a Faith as this is confistent with cherishing Anger, Malice, Pride, Covetousness, or any other corrupt Disposition whatever. Nay it is consistent with every evil Word, and every vicious Action. But where true Faith is, it both justifies and will fanElify(c); nor does it give any Indulgence to fuch Works of the Devil. The Holy Spirit declares, that he that committeth Sin, is of the Devil (d). Who soever abideth in [Christ] sinneth not. Whoseever is born of God, doth not commit Sin: And moreover, that in this the Children of God are manifest, and the Children of the Devil: Whosoever doth not Righteousness, is not of God (e). Confequently, that Faith, which does not begin to purify the Heart, fpeaks.

(a) St Matth. 22. 37—40. St John xiii. 34, 35. Ch. xv. 2, 4, 5, 8, 10. Gal. v. 6. Philip. i. 11. 1St John iii. 15—19, 22—24. Ch. iv. 16—21.

(b) Ephes. vi. 14. 1 Thess. v. 8. (c) Acts xxvi. 18. 1 Cor. vi. 11.

(d) 1 St John iii. 8. (e) Ver. 6, 9, 10, speaks only a deceitful Peace to us (a). The Blood of Christ, when rightly applied, always brings Peace (b); but then it will always purge the Conscience from dead Works to serve the living God (c).

His precious Blood is a sanstifying Principle (d); it redeems from a vain, and wicked Conversation (e); it turns them, who are sanctified by Failb in Christ, from the Power of Satan (f); and consequently, from the Works of Satan: For Christ was manifested to destroy the Works of the Devil (g). They that are Elect, are Elect—through Sanctification of the Spirit unto Obedience, and sprinkling of the Blood of Jesus Christ (b)—Seeing, says the fame Apostle, ye have purified your Souls in obeying the Truth through the Spirit (i).

You see, my dear Eugenius, how true Faith in the Blood of Christ; Sanstification of Heart and Life; and unfeigned Obedience, must and ever will, have a mutual Connection with one another. But let us still attend to the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit a little further. -" The Grace of God that bringeth Salvation, hath appeared to all Men; teach-" ing us, that, denying Ungodliness and " worldly Lufts, we should live foberly, righ-

" teoufly, and godly in this present World; " looking

(a) Acts xv. q.

(b) Rom. xiv. 17. Ephes. ii. 13, 14. Col. i. 20.

(c) Heb. ix. 14. (d) Heb. xiii. 12. (e) 1 St Peter i. 8, 19. (f) Acts xxvi. 18.

(g) 1 St John iii. 8. (b) 1 St Peter i. 2.

(i) Ch. i. 22.

"looking for that blessed Hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ: Who gave himfelf for us, that he might redeem us from all Iniquity, and purify unto himself a pecuhar People zealous of good Works (a)."— I desire you would consider, whether those who are not zealous of good Works, can be of the Number of this feculiar People?

Again, the fame Holy Spirit, who has told us, that " By Grace we are faved through " Faith; and that not of curselves; it is the " Gift of God: Not of Works, lest any Man " should boast;" I say, the same Holy Spirit immediately affores us, that " We are his " Workmanship, created in Christ Jesus un-" to good Works, which God hath before " ordained, that we should walk in them (b)." Therefore, if we walk not in good Works, do we not contradict the very Reason for which we' were created anew in Christ Jesus? Such a Behaviour is fo expressly contrary to our New Creation in Christ, that nothing can be more manifest or evident. But now, only to mention one Passage more. We are not only directed to add to our Faith -Virtue-Knowledge-Temperance-Patience-Gedliness -Brotherly-Kindness and Charity; but moreover, these Things are to be in us and abound: And it is declared, that He that lacketh thefe . Things

(a) Tit. ii. 11-14. Ch. iii. 8.

(b) Ephes. ii. 8-10.

Things is blind; and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old Sins(a).

Would to God, that fuch as expect to be finally faved by an empty Faith, would lay these Things seriously to Heart!

E. I take it, that our Church does not give the least Encouragment to such a dead Faith.

P. You judge perfectly right: let us only. hear in what Manner she describes true Faith. This is the true, lively, and unfeigned " Christian Faith, and is not in the Mouth " and outward Profession only, but it liveth " and firreth inwardly in the Heart. And " this Faith is not without Hope and Trust in "God, nor without the Love of God and of " our Neighbours, nor without the Fear of " God, nor without the Defire to hear God's "Word, and to follow the same, in eschew-" ing Evil, and doing gladly all good Works. -" [ It ] is also moved through continual Af-" sistance of the Spirit of God to serve and and please him, to keep his Favour, to " fear his Displeasure, to continue his obedient Children, shewing Thankfulness again. " by observing or keeping his Command-ments, and that freely, for true Love chiefly, and not for dread of Punishment, " or love of temporal Reward; confidering " how clearly, without Defervings, we bave " received his Mercy and Pardon freely (b)."

(a) 2 St Peter i. 5, 9.

(b) Hom. of Faith, Part I. p. 19, 20.

— Thus does our Church express herself. And thus easily may you know the Difference betwixt a living and a dead Faith. None can be deceived, but Hypocrites, or Men notoriously careless and negligent. And it is no wonder, if either they, who value not their Salvation, should miss of it: Or if such as love to deceive, should themselves be fatally deceived.

E. I fee nothing is wanting to discern the Difference, but an honest and attentive Mind.

— But now, since a thorough Conversion seems, at least in habitual Sinners, to be generally a long and laborious Work; what can we think of those numbers of remarkable Convisions, and those many sudden Conversions, which of late Years we have heard of, not only in England and Scotland, but in the remotest Parts of his Majesty's Dominions in America (a)? They seem to me too strange and surprizing to be true.

P. Though, my dear Friend, it would be the very Height of Madness and Presumption for Sinners to continue in Sin, in Expectation of so miraculous a Change; yet as we should be exceedingly cautious how we presume to limit the Almighty, since His Judgments are unsearchable, and his Ways past sinding out (b); so when we have such abundant Evidence of the Facts themselves, it would

(a) See the Reverend Mr Wesley's and Mr Whitesield's Accounts; and those from Scotland and America, in the New England Christian History.

(b) Rom. xi. 33.

would argue a furprizing Disposition towards doubting, to refuse giving credit to such a number of concurrent Testimonies. But then, besides, when we meet with several Instances of a like Nature in the Holy Scripture (a), this demonstrates that the Thing is not entirely new; but only a Revival of what was at the Beginning. And indeed, it is not unreasonable to suppose that God would before the End of Time, revive his first Work, and give new Life to expiring Christianity, in a way uncommon, miraculous, and aftonishing. If it should be objected, that those ancient Instances were only of Jews and Gentiles converted to the Faith of Christ; whereas these modern ones are of Christians supposed to be converted from a dead Faith, and dead Works; - I fay, if any should object this Difference; I would desire them to consider, whether all such Christians do not equally want to have their Eyes opened; to be turned from Darkness to Light; and from the Power of Satan unto God? Whether they do not equally stand in need of Repentance; and a living Faith in the Blood of Jesus? and whether, without these, either of them can receive Forgiveness of Sins; or Inheritance among st them which are sanctified by Faith which is in him (b)?

And

Rom. iii. 24, 25. Ch. v. 1. Heb. ix. 14.

(a) Acls ii. 37—41, 47. Ch. iv. 4. Ch. v. 14. Ch. ix. 1–20. Ch. xi. 20, 21. Ch. xiii. 12, 48. Ch. xiv. 1. Ch. xvi. 5, 14, 15, 29-34. Ch. xvii. 34. Ch. xviii. 8. Ch. xix. 17-20.

(b) Acts xxvi. 18-20. Ch. xx. 21. Ch. viii. 22, 23.

And when we further reflect, that God has given our holy Lord the Heathen for his Inheritance, and the uttermost Part of the Earth for his Possession (a); that the whole Jewish Nation shall be converted (b), and the whole World bow down before the Scepter of Christ; and when we consider the present melancholy degenerate State of Christianity;—I say, when we lay these Things together, can it seem strange, if, whilst God restores his divine Gospel where it is just departing, and prepares to bring about those other amazing Events, he should clothe himself with a more visible Majesty than ordinary, and once more shew Wonders in the Heavens, and in the Earth (c)?

To these glorious Times the Evangelical Prophet most evidently alludes, where he foretels, that the Earth shall be full of the Knowledge of the Lord, as the Waters cover the Sea (d). That famous Prophecy, in all its Parts and whole Extent, has been hitherto but very imperfectly fulfilled (e); and therefore still remains to be entirely accomplished. But before this Kingdom of Righteousness can be set up, how many stubborn Enemies of Christ must be broken to Pieces (f)? To so very awful a Season, we may well apply the Words of the same Prophet, — Enter into

(a) Psalm. ii. 8. Rom. xi. 11, 12, 15, 23-32.

(b) Rev. ii. 15. (c) Joel ii. 30. (d) Isaiah xi. 9. (e) Ver. 6—9.

(f) Psalm ii. 9—12. Psalm cx. 1 Cor. xv. 24, 25. Ephes. i. 22. Rev. ii. 26, 27. Ch. vi. 2. Ch. xix. 15.

into the Rock, and hide thee in the Dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the Glory of his Majesty. The losty looks of Man shall be humbled, and the Haughtiness of Men shall be bowed down, and the Lerd alone shall be exalted in that Day (a). So that whether we consider Christ as conquering (b) his Friends, or his Enemies; whether as subduing the Hearts of the former by his divine Grace, and plucking them as a Brand out of the Fire (c); or whether as trampling under Foot those who will not bave bim to reign over them (d); in either of these Views, whenever that solemn time is come for the full Accomplishment of these Things, we may reasonably suppose, that such a Display of the Sovereign Power of Christ will be quite out of the ordinary Course of Things. Nor will I take upon me to fay, that our holy Lord had no View to this State of the World, when he thus addresses himself to Nathanael; -- Hereafter you shall see Heaven open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man (e).

So that you find, my dear Eugenius, I should not be surprized, if we should live to see much stranger Things than we have hitherto feen.

However, as to the amazing manner of Conviction, and the Suddenness or Slowness of Conversion;

(a) Isaiah ii. 10, 11. (b) Rev. vi. 2.

(c) Zechar. iii. 2. (d) St Luke xix. 27.

(e) St John i. 51.

Conversion; this spiritual Work of God, upon the Soul, must be left to God only. — I will work, says the Amighty, and who shall let it (a)?

And again, by the same Prophet,—It shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and whilst they are yet speaking, I will bear (b).

However, let none harden themselves in Sin: For though the Spirit of God will reprove, or convince the World of Sin (c), whether they will or not; yet a thorough and lasting Conversion requires their own Concurrence (d). The Holy Spirit expressly commands Men to give Diligence to make their Calling and Election sure: And to work out their own Salvation with Fear and Trembling (e).

E. But may not an Objection lie against the Nature of the Work itself? May it not be said, that such Persons are deluded, if not possessed?

P. It may undoubtedly be so said: For what is it, my good Friend, that some Men cannot say? But then, if any one should visibly see the Fruits of the Spirit of God, where before he saw little except the Works of the Devil a

(c) St John xvi. 8.

(e) 2 St Pet. i. 10, 11. Philip. ii. 12, 13.

(a) Isaiah xliii. 13. (b) Isaiah lxv. 24.

(d) St Matth. xxvi. 41. St Mark xiii. 37. St Luke xxi. 34, 36. Ch. xxii. 46. St John xv. 1—10. 1 Cor. ix. 27. Ch. x. 12. 2 Cor. xi. 3. Ephes. vi. 11—18. 1 Thess. iii. 5. Heb xii. 15. 1 St Pet. v. 8, 9. 2 St Pet. ii. 4—9. Rev. iii. 11, 12. Ch. xxii. 11—19.

Devil; would you not think that Person under a strange Desusion, who could not plainly discern the Finger of God?

E. I really think, I should.

P. Or if a Person of unquestionable Reputation should declare this, upon his own certain Knowledge, might not such an Account, at least, seem to merit a very favourable Attention?

E. I must own, it would. But now, leaving this Digression, which was owing to my Curiosity, I beg to know what a Penitent Sinner must do, who cannot yet find that Faith wrought in him, which speaks Peace and Comfort to the Soul?

P. He must pray for it, with great Constancy, Humility, and Patience; and perfevere in bringing forth Fruits meet for Repentance, to the best of his Abilities (a). And it may be great Encouragement for such to consider, that when the Predigal was yet a great way off, bis Father saw him, and had Compassion, and ran, and fell on his Neck and kissed him (b).

But then, let it be well attended to, that the Son was returning and going on, till his Father met him (c). For had he, after his Refolution to arife and go to his Father, either changed his Mind, or stopped short in his Journey

(a) St Matth. ii. 8. St Luke viii. 15. Ch. xviii. 1. Ch. xxi. 19. 2 Thess. iii. 5. Heb. x. 36, 37. St James i. 3, 4. Ch. iv. 6—10. St Mark xiii. 13.

(b) St Luke xv. 20. (c) Ver. 18-20.

ney home, or returned to his Swine again, he and his Father had not then met. And therefore let the Penitent go on forwards, till he meets with his Heavenly Father; who, at the properest Time and Season, will certainly fall on his Neck and his him. But, in the mean while, he may be satisfied, he is in the sure Way to obtain Salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ (a). He may be affured, that God will look to him, who is poor and of a contrite Heart; and who trembles at his Word b). God will not despise the Day of small Things, nor the Works of his own Hands (c). But He, which hath begun a good Work in us, will perform it unto the Day of Jesus Christ (d).

Him that cometh to me, fays the holy Jesus,

I will in no wife cast out (e).

He was fent to bind up the broken-hearted, -- and to comfort all that mourn (f). That God, whose Name is holy,—dwells with him that is of a contrite and humble Spirit, to revive the Spirit of the Humble, and to revive the Heart of the contrite ones—I create the Fruit of the Lips; Peace, Peace, to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the Lord, and I will heal him (g).

Thus will the God of Hope, at the best and wisest Season, fill every true Penitent, with all Joy and Peace in believing, that they may

ahound

(a) I Thess. v. y. (b) Isaiah lxvi. 2.

(c) Zechariah iv. 10. Pfalm cxxxviii. 8.

(d) Philip. i. 6. (e) St John vi. 37. (f) Isaiah lxi. 1, 2. (g) Ch. lvii. 15—19.

abound in Hope, through the Power of the Holy Gbost (a).

He will, when his own adorable Wisdom judges it best, thus discover himself to the Soul of every sincerely returning Sinner: For he is the same God of Hope and Peace through Christ, that he ever was (b). And therefore as he has already done to others; so will he vouchsafe to every proper Object the Spirit of Adoption, whereby they cry, Abba, Father: And, at the properest time, his Spirit will bear witness with their Spirit, that they are the Children of God (c).

But let them continue inflant in Prayer: Praying always with all Prayer and Supplication (d). Let them not be wearied or faint in their Minds: For yet a little while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tarry (e).

These ought surely to be powerful Motives, to encourage us to persevere in the patient waiting for Christ (f).

However, it is evident, that the Business of Salvation is no slight Affair. And the Reafon may be plainly perceived, why the Holy Spirit commands us to work out our Salvation with Fear and Trembling (g), and to give Diligence to make our Calling and Election fure (b). You find it is a great Work, and D

(a) Rom. xv. 13. (b) Heb. xiii. 20, 21.

(c) Rom. viii. 15, 16.

(d) Rom. xii. 12. Ephes. vi. 18:

(e) Heb. xii. 3. Ch. x. 37. (f) 2 Thess. iii. 5.

(g) Phil. ii. 12. (4) 2 St Pet. i. 10.

that great Diligence is therefore indispensably necessary: And that a boly Fear and Concern, lest we offend God, or grieve bis boly Spirit (a), will be present to the Mind of every true Christian.

But from hence we may stand amazed at those unhappy Persons, who seem to imagine, that fitting still, and doing of nothing, is the best way to work out their Salvation! the best way to give Diligence to make their Calling and Election sure!

They, who can reconcile these Things,— Idleness with Diligence; and doing nothing with working, need not despair of reconciling any Contradiction whatever.

E. Salvation, I am fensible, is a greate Work: And as we must work it out; so is it well worth the while, to give all Diligence to make it sure to us. I beg now to be instructed how I am to understand that Expression of the Apostle, that Christ is of God made unto us Sanstification (b). For I think some have understood it, as if the Holiness of Christ was so imputed to us, that we needed none in our own Hearts: But that we were to look only to the Holiness which is in Christ; without labouring for any in ourselves.

P. If you meet, Eugenius, with any who talk in this manner, you have great Reason to pity, and to pray for them: And withal, endeavour,

(a) Ephes. iv. 30.

endeavour, in the Spirit of Meekness, to reclaim them from their Error (a).

Christ is made Santtification to us, as he is made to us Wisdom and Redemption. Not by imputing his Wisdom and Redemption to us; but by making us wife unto Salvation (b) ; and redeeming us from the Dominion, the Guilt, and Punishment of Sin (c); and from the Power of the Grave (d), and of Satan, as we have before observed.

And thus is he made San Etification unto us : by procuring for us that Holy Spirit, who is to work that San Etification in the Heart, without which we are not qualified for Heaven. For without Holiness, [inward real Holiness] no Man shall see the Lord (e). Having therefore,

(a) It may not be amis, for the fake of some Readers, just to observe, that this does not seem to be the Doctrine of Calvin: For he fays, that God sanctifies us, by reforming our vicious Nature, by his Spirit .- Justificat nos Deus à Reatu liberando; Sanctificat vitiosam Naturam Spiritu suo reformando. In 1 Cor. vi. 11 .- Beza, in his Explanation of Titus iii. 7. mentions the Efficacy of the Spirit in sanctifying of us .- Completitur hic locus, ficut & Rom. viii 30. quicquid à Christo consequimur, tum per imputationem, tum per Spiritus in nobis sanciificandis efficaciam. And the learned Antagonist of Arminius speaks to the same Purpose. - Christus, qui nos ungit & merito Obedientiæ suæ, & Efficacia Spiritus sui nosmet san&ificantis .- Gomarus in 1 St John ii. 20.

(b) Ephes. iii. 17-19. Colos. i. 9. Chap. ii. 2, 3. 2 Tim. iii. 15.

(c) Rom. vi. 6, 14, 22. Ch. viii. 2. 2 Cor. v. 18, 19. Ephes. i. 7.

(d) Rom viii 11, 23. 1 Cor. xv. 54-57. Philip. iii. 21. 1 Thefs. iv. 13-16.

(e) St Matth. v. 8. Heb. xii. 14.

fore, says the same Apostle, these Promises, let us cleanse our selves from all Filibiness of the Flesh and Spirit, persetting Holiness in the Fear of God (a). Nothing can be more manifest than that St Paul speaks here to his Converts of an universal San Aistication of Heart, and Atlions. He speaks of it, indeed, as of what might be effected by themselves. The Reason is, because they were to labour and pray earnestly for it; and strive to put all Impediments out of the way. But no Words can more fully demonstrate, that this Holiness was to be in themselves; in their very Souls, as well as their outward Practice.

As he, who hath called you, is Hely,—says the same divine Spirit; so be ye koly in all manner of Conversation. Because it is written,

Be ye bely; for I am boly (b).

Could now the Spirit of God more expressly enjoin real Holiness, than when he directs it to be in all manner of Conversation; and enforces it from hence; — because God:

bimself is boly?

Again, when the same Persons are told, that they bad purified their Souls in obeying the Truth, through the Spirit (c): and St Peter declares that God had purified the Hearts of the Gentiles by Faith (d); what can be meant, but an astual Purification of the Heart and Affections?

Moreover,

(a)-2 Cor. vii. 1.

(b) 1 St Pet. i. 15, 16.

(c) Ver. 22.

(d) Acts xv. 9.

Moreover, when St Paul tells the Thessabonians, that God bad from the beginning chosen them to Salvation, through Sanstification of the Spirit, and Belief of the Truth (a); — What Sanstification can the Apostle mean, but a real inward Holiness wrought in their Souls

by the Holy Spirit?

And further, when he desires, that the Lord would stablish their Hearts unblameable in Holiness before God: And that the very God of Peace would sanstify them wholly: And that their whole Spirit, and Soul and Body, might be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ (b); I say, when the Apostle thus expresses himself, is it possible to understand him, as if he really did not desire, that they should have any inward Holiness of Soul or Spirit; but only that they should lay Claim to the Holiness of Christ; whilst they themselves were destitute of all real Holiness within their own Hearts?

If this be to stablish the Heart in Holiness; Thould be glad to know, what it is to have the Heart without Holines?

I pray God open the Eyes of such Interpreters of the facred Writings! Be assured, my good Friend, that the great Work of Santification is of a different Nature. It is an absual purifying of the whole Heart and

D 3 Affections,

(d) 2 Thess. ii. 13.

(b) 1 Thess. iii 13. 'Ch. v. 23.

Affections, by the Spirit of Christ; it is the restoring of the lost Image of God in our Souls; and thus qualifying of us for that State of Blessedness, which none but boly Souls are capable of enjoying: And without which, Christ is neither our Wisdom, nor Righteousness, nor Sanctification, nor Redemption.—Pray hear once more the Words of the Spirit of Truth,—Every Man that hath this Hope in him [the Hope of seeing God] purished himself even as he is pure. They that are Christ's have crucified the Flesh, with the Assections and Lusts (a).

E. It feems then, as if a State of thorough Santification was attainable in this Life. I should be glad to know the Opinion of our Church, with respect to such a State.

P. It is evident, from what has just been mentioned, not only that such a State is attainable; but that wretched must be the Fate of that Person who attains it not. For since he must arrive at it before he can see God; where is it, that he must arrive at it, if not in this World? The Romish Church indeed, as you well know, have found out another Place to attain it in; as the ancient Heathens had done long before: — But I would advise all, who value their Souls, not to trust to the Purishcation of that Place. And therefore fore fince it must be attained in this Life; and and the Holy Spirit is as powerful at one Season as at another; surely the sooner we labour after it, by all the Means of Grace, the sooner we are like to attain it.

(a) 1 St John iii. 2, 3. Gal. v. 24. See also 1 St John ii. 6. 2 St Peter iii. 11, 14.

It is true, he will not sanstify any unqualified or unsuitable Object; but then if our Want of due Qualifications be owing to ourfelves; to our wilful Negligence or Carelessness; we have none to blame but ourselves only Perhaps we are too fond of this World; and if not of its groffer Vices, yet of its Follies and Vanities; its Riches, Honours, or Pleafures: Or possibly we have some other Rightband, or Right-eye; some darling favourite Sin of the Soul, which we have not the Courage to part with; fuch as Pride, Wrath, Luxury, Covetousness, or the Praise of Men. Therefore we do not desire, at this Time, to have fo boly and beavenly a Frame of Mind; so meek and lowly a Heart; so pious and patient a Soul; so mortified and felfdenying a Spirit (a). And consequently we neither labour nor pray for these Things. We may possibly, for Form's sake, put up a Petition, now and then, for all these divine Graces; but as fuch Prayers proceed not from the Heart (where we have fet up some Idol or other) is it to be wondered at, that we are answered only according to our Fally? We are not fit for such divine Favours; and therefore they are kept from us. Thus verifying the Words of the Holy Spirit,-Te have not, because ye ask not. Ye ask, and receive not; because ye ask amiss (a).

D/4 that

(a) St Matth. xi. 29. St Luke ix. 23. 1 Cor. ix. 24—27. Gal. v. 22—26.

And now, if this thorough Sanstification is what we are to understand by finless or Christian Perfection, it may justly seem surprizing, that it should have been treated as downright Enthusiasm or Madness. The Doctrine itself, we have seen, is the Doctrine of the Spirit of God: And it will be easy to find, that our own Church teaches the fame. For what else does she mean by the following Petitions? -That " God would fanctify both our Hearts " and Bodies(b); That we may be cleansed " from all our Sins (c); That this Day we fall into no Sin (d); That God would keep us this Day without Sin (e); That we may " be delivered from all the Deceits of the World, the Flesh, and the Devil (f); That " we may for fake all worldly and carnal Af-" festions (g); That we may always ferue " [God] in Pureness of Living and Truth (b);

(a) St James iv. 2, 3. 1 St John v. 21.

(b) Collect ad following the Bleffing after the Com-(c) Collect 21st after Trinity.

(d) Third Collect for Grace. (e) Te Deum.

(f) Litany. (g) Collect for St James.

(b) Collect first Sunday after Easter. See also the Collect for Innocents Day. Exhortation before the Communion, with the Confession and Absolution : And the first proper Preface.

"That we may in Heart and Mind ascend " [into the Heavens] and with [Christ] con-" tinually dwell (a); That God would grant

" us the Spirit to think and do always fuch "Things as be rightful (b); And that we " may perfettly love [God] (c); And walk before bim in Holiness and Righteousness all

" our Days (d)."

Surely this perfett Love of God; this continual walking in Holiness and Righteousness; this Heavenly Frame of Heart and Mind; this continual thinking and doing what is right; this constant serving of God in Pureness of living; this forfaking all worldly and carnal Affections; the being Day by Day preserved from Sin; the being cleanfed from all of them; and the being fantified both in Heart and Body; I fay, furely these Things are attainable, in the Opinion of our Church, or she would never have thus petitioned for them. But what do all these Things amount to, if not to a State of thorough Santtification of the Flesh and Spirit?

If all would heartily fer themselves to arrive at this bleffed State, as it is the plain Duty and Interest of all to do; it is of little Importance, whether they call it Holiness, or Perfection, or by any other Name.

E. I

(a) Collect for Afcention Day.
(b) Collect for the Ninth Sunday after Trinity.
(c) Collect following the Lord's Prayer in the Communion-Service.
(d) General Thanksgiving. munion-Service.

E. I fee plainly the indispensable Necessity of universal Holiness in this Life; which makes me even tremble to think, how far removed I am from it.—But since it has been objected, that the Dostrine of Persession is attended with some dangerous Consequences, I should be glad to be satisfied with respect to these Objections.

The first is, that it encourages Pride.

Secondly, that is cuts off all Defendence on Christ, the Fountain of all Grace.

Thirdly, that it totally fets aside the Way of Access to God; which is by Jesus Christ.

And, fourthly, that it fets afide Prayer, especially those two great Parts of it, Confession and Petition (a).

P. These are great Objections indeed! But if it should appear, that they are very ill-founded, they must of course come to nothing. But, first, since the bely Angels themselves appear to have fallen by Pride(b); it can be no Wonder, if a very bely Man should, for want of due Care and Watchfulness, fall into the same spiritual Snare: But then it should be remembered, that this Fride is no Part of his Holiness; nor any Reason, why he should not labour for a State of universal Holiness. For since without Holiness no Man shall see the Lord (c);—Heliness we must have,

(b) 2 St Pet. ii. 4. St Jude 6. 1 Tim. iii. 6.

(c) Heb. xii, 14.

(a) The Perfectionists Examined, p. 7, 8, &c. by William Fleetwood, Gent.

have, let Men raise never such powerful Objections against it.

Can any Christian in his Senses think it a sufficient Reason, why he should wallow in Sin, because then he cannot pride himself in his Holiness or Perfession? Surely to be pure in Heart and poor in Spirit, are very consistent States.

But, secondly, as to its cutting off all Dependence on Christ, the Fountain of all Grace; I affirm, on the contrary, that a truly fanctified Soul will see its Want of Christ every Day more evidently.—The more boly are our Hearts, the more bumble are they like to be, and the more earnest our Desires after greater Supplies of Grace. And such Desires will of course send us to bim, through whom alone they can be supplied.

As to the third Objection, that it totally fets aside the Way of Access to God, which is through Christ. — Surely, if this was a necessary Consequence of a thorough Sanstification, St Paul had never directed the Corinthians to perfect Holiness in the Fear of God (a). Nor prayed, that God would sanstify the Thessalonians wholly: Nor that their whole Spirit, and Soul, and Body might be preserved blameless (b). Nor had St Peter exhorted those Christians to be holy in all manner of Conversation; nor to be diligent, that they might be found of God without without Spot and blameless (a) . I say, if a thorough Santtification totally set aside the going to God through Christ, these inspired Apostles had never thus laboured to bring Christians to fuch a State. Because the thus approaching God is as much the indispensable Duty of the greatest Saint upon Earth, as of the greatest Sinner. This is what I shall endeavour to establish very evidently (b); but first proceed to confider the remaining Objection; viz. That this State sets aside Prayer; especially these two great Parts of it, Confession and Petition .- In Opposition to which, I must beg leave to affert, that there is none so boly; none so perfett; but he must both be established in the Faith; and abound therein with Thanksgiving (c). He must still grow in Grace; and in the Knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ (d). He must be still adding to his Faith, Virtue; to Virtue, Knowledge; to Knowledge, Temperance; to Temperance, Patience; to Patience, Godliness; to Godliness, Brotherly Kindness; and to Brotherly Kindness, Charity: And these Things must be in him, and abound (e). He must sincerely strive to love the Lord bis God, with all bis Heart, and with all his Soul, and with all his Mind, and with all bis Strength; and even his worft Enemies, as Christ loved him (f).

(a) 2 Car. vii. 1.

Here (a) 1 St Peter i. 15. 2 Epistle iii. 14.

(b) See Page 70. (c) Colos. ii. 7. Rom. i. 17. (d) 2 St Pet. iii. 18. (e) 2 St Peter i. 5—8.

(f) St Mark xii. 30, 31. St Math. v. 44. St John xiii. 34. Rom, v. 6, 8, 10. 1 St John iv. 11, 12.

Here is then abundant Matter for every Day's Confession and Petition; and for every Hour's too .- Where is that Saint upon Earth, who can fay, he has fpent the preceding Day, or even Hour, with all that Care, and Watchfulness, and Diligence; and with all that Patience, and Self-denial, and Christian Love, and universal Charity; and that he has improved himself as much in Faith, and Grace, and the Knowledge of Christ; and in the Fear, and Knowledge, and Love of God, as it was possible for him to do? So that here is sufficient Matter to confess; and sufficient to ask Pardon for. Here is sufficient Cause to petition for further Supplies of divine Aid; in order to make further Advances in the divine Life: And here is abundant Reason for perpetual Humiliation. Or shall we say, Eugenius, it is better for Men to continue in Sin, that Grace may abound (a); that so they may have more to confess; and more to petition.

E. If we are only unprofitable Servants, even after we have done all; furely here alone is enough to bumble us. And therefore I pray God make me always boly and bumble, watchful and diligent.

P. Goon, my Friend, as I trust you have begun; and the Holy Spirit will not be wanting to assist you. It is worthy of Observation, that holy Job was never so bumble, as when he had the clearest Discoveries of a Holy God.—He then abborred himself, and repented in Dust and Ashes (a). But I shall now surther add a Caution or two, which may still excite even the most serfest Christian to perpetual Care, and Vigilance, and Humi-

And, first, it must always be remembered, that notwithstanding Holiness be indifpensably necessary to the Enjoyment of Heaven; yet we are not to look upon the most boly or beavenly Frame of Spirit; or, in short, upon the most righteous, pious, or charitable Actions of our whole Lives, as the Cause or Foundation of our Acceptance with God (b). We must altogether renounce the Merit of these, and only take Shelter in the Merits of Christ. For though we must diligently strive after such a Frame of Spirit; and, to our Power, live in the Exercise of such Actions: And though they are entitled to a great and bountiful Reward (c), through the Free Grace of God in Christ; yet when we have done all, ( as you have just observed ) we are but unprofitable Servants (d); we have nothing, but what we have received; I Cor. iv. 7. therefore neither we nor our Service can merit any thing. All our spiritual Sacrifices are only acceptable acceptable to God, by Jesus Christ (a). If the Prayers of the greatest Saint be not offered with Incense by Christ bimself, they will no more ascend up before God (b), than the Prayers of the greatest Sinner. Aaron was, in this Particular, a remarkable Type of our great High Priest; in that he was to bear for take away the Iniquity of the boly Things (c). And if the Iniquity of our boly Things be not cleanfed by the Blood of sprinkling (d), slet the most fanctified Person think on this ] they will not prove an Odour of a sweet Smell, a Sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God (e). So that it will always become us, when we look upon our own righteous Actions, as considered in themselves, to say in the Language of the Prophet, - All our Righteousnesses are as fitthy Rags (f).

(a) Job. xlii: 5, 6.. (b) 2 Tim. i. 9. Tit. iii. 5. (c) St Matth. v. 8. 2 St Peter i. 4. St Matth. xxv. 34—46. Phil. iv. 18. Heb. vi. 10. Chap. xiii. 16. Rev. xiv. 13. (d) St Luke xvii. 10.

Let us remember, that Christ, and he alone, is the Author, meritorious Caufe, and Foundation of our Acceptance and Reconciliation with God. And consequently on bim, and his Merits, and the Free Grace of God in bim, we must altogether rely and depend (g). Otherwise we act directly contrary to the great

(a) 1 Peter ii. 5. (b) Rev. viii. 3. 4.

(c) Exod. xxviii. 38.

(d) Heb. xii. 24. 1 Peter ii. 5. Rev. vii. 13, 14.

(e) Phil. iv. 18. Rom. xv. 16. (f) Isai. lxiv. 6. (g) 2 Cor. v. 18, 19. Ephes. ii. 13—18. Col. iii. Heb. v. 9. Ch. xii. 2. Rom. iii. 24. Ch. v. 8. 1 St John iv. 9, 10.

great inspired Apostle, who defired only to be found in Christ; not having, says he, mine own Righteousness, which is of the Law; but that which is through the Faith of Jesus Christ; the Righteou sness which is of God by Faith (a). He disclaimed all Merit in his own Performances, and refted folely in the Merits of Christ. He defired altogether to rely on the Righteousness of Christ, justified through Faith in him; and possessed of all the other blessed Fruits and Consequences of what Christ had done and fuffered; that so Christ might be to him Wisdom, and Righteousness, and Santtification, and Redemption (b). This was the Foundation he built upon; and if we build upon any other, it will certainly fail us. For cother Foundation can no Man lay, than that is laid; which is Jesus Christ (c).

However, Secondly, Men are not to imagine, that they are hereby excused from the Performance of any good Work in their Power. In particular, they are not excused from that Part of pure and undefiled Religion, which consists in visiting the Fatherless and Widows in their Affliction, and keeping themselves unspotted from the World (d).

Let the Rich ever bear in Mind the charge given by the Spirit of God, not only—
"That they do Good, but that they be rich in good Works, ready to distribute, willing (a) Philip. iii. 9.

<sup>16) 1</sup> Cor. i. 30.

(c) Ch. iii. 11.

(d) St James i. 27.

" to communicate (a)." So that it is not complying with this divine Command, unless such Persons willingly, and readily, and abundantly communicate out of their large Possessions. How else can they be rich in these good Works? How else can they sow bountifully? or pay a just Regard to that divine Promise, that be which soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully (b)? But after what manner is it, that these divine Precepts are now generally complied with? or how many does this Promise seem now to influence? Are stately Buildings, or costly Furniture, or rich Attire, or luxurious Tables, or a Splendid Equipage, or the boarding up of Treasure; Are these any Proof, that Men are governed by the Gospel of Christ; or that they are led by his Spirit (c)? Is it thus, they lay up Treafures in Heaven; set their Affections on Things above; or demonstrate, that they are rich towards God? That they neither love the World; nor the Things of the World; nor are conformed to it? However, though the one may be no direct Proof or Demonstration of the other; yet Men seem to have found out so many ingenious Solutions of difficult Texts of Scripture, and to have fush a peculiar Happiness

(a) 1 Tim. vi 17, 18. (b) 2 Cor. ix. 6.

(c) I will not venture to fay, they are a direct Proof of the contrary; but, confidering the real State of the World, they furnish out but too strong a Presumption, that Mens Hearts are not much influenced by the Spirit of Christ.

piness in softening all its bard Sayings, that the narrow Way, which leadeth unto Life, is become sufficiently wide for a covetous Heart, a carnal Mind, or a worldly Spirit.

I do not pretend to refer you to any particular Commentary, where such Expositions are expressly taught or maintained; but I refer you to the Practice and Behaviour of too many Profesfors of Christianity; who could never be so thoroughly satisfied with them-felves, unless they explained away the many fevere Passages of the Gospel of Christ.

But how different, my good Friend, is the Description, which the great Apostle gives of the Christians of Macedonia? That the Abundance of their Joy, and their deep Poverty, abounded unto the Riches of their Liberality! And this even in a great Trial of Affliction (a)!

Let this, my dear Eugenius, be a Leffon for you: And though your deep Poverty can-not, yet let your affluent Fortune abundantly discover a true Christian Spirit, by a chearful and rich Liberality, to supply the spiritual and temporal Wants of Mankind. Be affured, my good Friend, that when the gaudy Scenes of Life are over, as they are certainly every Day vanishing, you will then find, by a joyful Experience, what the Lord Jesus long fince declared, that it is more blessed to give than to receive (b). And you will then plainly discern the Folly of those, who, to excuse their Neglect of being rich towards God (a), have, under the Notion of providing for their own, heaped much Treasure together for aggrandizing their Families. Thus is the Gospel of Christ obeyed!

(a) 2 Cor. viii. 1, 2. (b) Acts xx. 35. 38.16

E. But has not the great Apostle declared, that if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own House, he hath denied the Faith, and is worse than an Insidel (b)?

P. He has fo. And though nothing feems plainer, than that the Apostle is there speaking of Childrens requiting their Parents (c), and not suffering of them, or any other poor Relations, to be a Burden to others; yet I know learned Men, according to Custom, are divided in their Sentiments about this very plain Part of Scripture. However, let the Precept immediately relate either to Parents or Children (as most certainly it may be extended to both) yet furely there can be no Dispute, what fort of Provision is there commanded: Not certainly a Provision of Grandeur and Luxury; but of Things needful for their Support (d). However, though nothing can be more plain than this; yet, I

(a) St. Luke xii. 21.

(b) pTim. v. 8. 33

(c) Verse 4.,

(d) Ut habeant unde vivant. Grot in loc.—Parentes, qui jure suo possunt alimenta à liberis repetene, cateraque ad vitam necessaria Hammond apud Le Clerc.—In his Commentary he has this Note: Il porocit hic non est sub-levare sollicità quadam providentià, priusquam necessitas ulla su; sed presenti egestati opem serre.

doubt not, this very Passage of Scripture is often brought to vindicate a Practice, which it was never designed to give the least Countenance to.

E. But then, does not the same Apostle affirm, that the Parents are to lay up for the Children (a)? And I think the original World is to lay up Treasure (b).

P. It is, my dear Friend, the same World which our bleffed Lord uses, where he commands us not to lay up for ourselves Treasures upon Earth, but to lay up Treasures in Hea-wen (c). However, if we allow there is a perfect Confistency in the Precepts of the Holy Spirit, we must grant, that we are so to lay up Treasures for our Children, that we may at the same time lay up Treasures for ourselves Way to do this? -Is it by being rich towards God; by being rich in good Works; by mimistring bountifully to the spiritual and temporal Necessities of Mankind; though by this means we leave our Families ONLY the divine Bleffing, and a moderate Competency? or is it by relieving the Miferies of others, with a feanty Hand; and laying up fuch Treasures for our Children, as may prove so many Snares to their Souls? Such as may prove the Occasion of Pride and Vanity, of Luxury and Extravagance? Such as may tempt a weak Mind, or a corrupt Heart, to fquander away in Riot or Gaming, what might have faved many a Person from the deepest Distress?

<sup>(4) @</sup> Cor.xii. 14: (6) Dnoweign.

(c) St Matth. vi. 19, 20.

Look round the World, my dear Eugenius, and observe to what Uses large Fortunes are frequently applied. And then reflect, whether such Parents, as treasure up so much for their Families, and so little for the Suffering Part of Mankind, - whether they are laying up for themselves Treasures in Heaven? And whether they do not sometimes lay up for their Children a Curfe rather than a Bleffing? -However, the most bountiful and most charitable Persons must not value themselves for their charitable Actions, nor trust to them; but to Christ only. But now, since he has affured us, that be is the Way, and the Truth, and the Life; and that no Man cometh unto the Father but by bim: And affured his Difciples, that what soever they should ask in his Name, be would do it (a): - Since we are commanded by the Holy Spirit, that whatsoever we do in Word or Deed, to do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving Thanks to God; and the Father by him (b): And according to this Command, the Apostle thus expresses himself, _ Unto him be Glory in the Church by Christ Jesus, throughout all Ages, World without end (c): - Again, fince the same Holy Spirit

(a) St John xiv. 6, 13, 14. Ch. xvi. 23, 24.

(b) Colos. iii. 17. (c) Ephes. iii. 21.

Spirit has affured us, that we are accepted in the Beloved (a); and that Christ is able to fave them to the uttermost that come unto God by bim; seeing be ever liveth to make Intercession for them (b). And moreover, that through bim we have an Access by one Spirit unto the Father (c): - I fay, for all these Reasons, it appears to me most abundantly evident, that no Person, none excepted, can have Access to the Father but only by Christ. I know the Holy Spirit mentions a Time, when Christ shall have delivered up the Kingdom to God, even the Father; and when God shall be all in all (d).

However, that Time is not yet come. It is not bere; but bereafter. The utmost we can understand by those Words, is, That when Christ has subdued all his Enemies; then his mediatory Kingdom will be furrendered into the Hands of God .- Christ indeed shall reign as King for ever and ever; and all his Saints with him: But he feems not then to reign as Mediator, or Intercessor; because that great Work will then be fully ended and completed (e).

But still, in the present State of Things, Christ is our Priest, and Prophet, and Mediator; as well as King: Christ is all, and in all;

(a) Ephes. i. 6. (b) Heb. vii. 25.

(c) . Ephes. ii. 18.

(d) 1 Cor. xv. 24, 28.

(e) See the learned Bishop Pearson on the Creed, p. 101, 104, 152, 153, 283. Sixth Edition.

and filleth all in all(a): And therefore we must not presume to approach the Father, but through the Son: Our Prayers and Praises cannot be acceptable to God, but by Jesus Christ (b). By him therefore, says the great Apostle, let us offer the Sacrifice of Praise to God continually (c). And now, as this is the indispensable Duty of every Christian, so the Doctrine of universal Holiness is far enough from being an Enemy to it.

Thirdly, fince a Christian wrestles not [only] against Flesh and Blood; but against Principalities, against Powers, against the Rulers of the Darkness of this World, against spiritual, Wickedness in high Places; therefore they have need enough to put on the whole Armour of God, that they may be able to stand against the Wiles of the Devil (d). He is a very subtle Adversary, and knows our weak Side: And, unless we follow our holy Lord's Directions, he will both assault us, where we lie most exposed; and will certainly defeat us (e). And therefore let us be ever upon our Guard; and watch and pray lest we enter into Temptation (f). Whoever imagines he has made such Advances

(a) Colos. iii. 11. Ephes. i. 23.

(b) 1 St Peter ii. 5. (c) Heb. xiii. 15.

(d) Ephes. vi. 11, 12.

(e) 2 Cor. ii. 11. Ch. xi. 3, 14. 1 Thefs. iii. 5. 1 St Peter v. 8. Rev. ii. 24.

(f) St Matth. xxvi. 41. St Mark xiii. 37. St Luke xxi. 36.

vances in Religion, that fuch Cautions are unnecessary, is in the utmost Danger of feeling the Effects of his own Rashness, Prefumption, and Self-sufficiency.

The greatest Proficient in the School of Christ ought frequently to restect on that solemn Caution, Thou standest by Faith. Be not high-minded, but fear (a). Nor are those other Directions of the same Apostle less needful for him, Let him that thinketh be standeth, take heed less the fall (b). He is but yet in a Probation-State; and therefore must constantly look to himself. The whole Life of a Christian upon Earth, is but one continued Journey towards Heaven; and therefore he must daily forget those Things which are behind, and reach forth unto those Things which are before; and press toward the Mark for the Prize

(a) Rom. xi. 20.

(b) I Cor. x. 12. If any one should imagine that these Directions cannot belong to him; because he does not only think that he flands; but knows for a Certainty that he does so;—such a Person may be pleased to observe; that there is not the least Necessity to suppose the Apostle here applies himself to vain, conceited Persons, who only fancied they shood rash, whilst they were just falling: For at Verse 15. he says, he speaks as to wise Men. So that he appears plainly continuate, that without due Care and Waiching, the best might fall: And moreover, it is to be observed, that the Verb doness is often an Expletive. See Mark x 42. St Luke viii. 18. 1 Cor. vii. 40. Ch. xi. 16. Heb. iv 1. See also our learned Gataker in his Cinnus, Ch. i. p. 37—40. And Hammond on St Matth, iii. 9.

Prize of the High Calling of God in Christ Jesus (a). The most advanced, and most improved Christian, has still greater Advances and bigher Improvements to make; and these require constant Care, and Prayer, and Watchfulness.

For though every Day his Salvation is nearer, than when he first believed (b); yet he must remember, that be that shall endure unto the End, the same shall be saved (c). - So that if he would receive the Prize, he must fo run that he may obtain (d). But if he stops short in this Christian Race; or fancies it is over, before he has finished his Course (e): that is, before he has finished his Days in his Lord's Service; and his Lord calls upon him to give an Account of his Talents and Stewardship (f); -I fay, if he does this, I fear he does not so run as to obtain the Prize. The holy Apostle, after twenty Years painful Running, Hunger, Thirst, and Nakedness, and Sufferings of every kind, yet left not off to run, and fight, and mortify. Let all Christians hear his own Words, and learn to imitate.

Itherefore forun, says this holy Man, not as uncertainly: So fight I, not as one that beateth the Air: But I keep under my Body, and bring it into Subjection; lest, that by any Means,

E when

(a) Philip, iii. 13, 14.

(b) Rom. xiii. 11.

(c) St Matth. xxiv. 13.

(d) 1 Cor. ix. 24.

(e) Acts xx. 24.

(f) St Matth. xxv. 13-19. St Luke xii. 35-44.

when I have preached to others, I myfelf should be a Cast-away (a). Surely, if this was the Behaviour of one, who had been a faithful, laborious, and perfecuted Soldier of Jesus Christ for so many Years; and who had the Power of Christ resting upon kim (b); what Christian can think, that the same Care, and Vigilance, and Self-denial, are unnecessary for himself?-But further, his Directions to the Hebrews are highly deferving of notice. -Looking diligently lest any Man fall from the Grace of God. For so the Words are rendered in the Margin; and fo they ought to be rendered (c). - Again, after he had told the Coloffians, that Christ had reconciled them, in the Body of his Flesh through Death, to present them boly, and unblameable, and unreproveable in the Sight [of God ], he then adds these remarkable Words, - If ye continue in the Faith, grounded and fettled, and be not moved away from the Hope of the Gospel (d).

By the former is evidently imply'd, that without great Care and Circumspection, Christians are in certain Danger of falling from divine Grace. And by the latter is plainly declared, that the Benefits of Christ's Death would be lost to us, unless we continued sted-fast in the Faith.

To the same Effect is that solemn Caution of the Son of God to the Church of Philadel-phia, (a) 1 Cor. ix. 26, 27. (b) 2 Cor. xii. 9.

(s) Heb. xii. 15. นท์ รเราะยุตั้ง ลัทธิ รักร xaeil@ ระ ปิเซี.

(d) Coloss. 1. 21-23. See also Heb. iii. 6, 14.

phia,—Hold that fast which thou hast, that no Man take thy Crown (a). If that Crown could not be taken, then our Lord uses an Argument to strike Fear, where no Fear was. But further, he had long before told his Disciples, that he was the Vine, and they the Branches: But that every Branch in him, which did not bear Fruit, his Father would take away (b). Can any thing now be more manifest, than that a Person, who had been spiritually ingrafted into Christ, if he did not bring forth the Fruits of the Gospel, would be cut off as an useless and withered Branch (c)? I pray God these Resections may sink deep into the Mind of every Professor of Christianity; and cause him to watch diligently his Heart and Actions.

E. May they ever fink deep into mine, in particular.

P. But still I have one Caution more to add; though I trust it will never be necessary as to yourself: And it is, that Men would never fancy themselves Children of God, whilst they are plainly indulging themselves in the Works of the Devil. The Holy Spirit has abundantly provided against this horrible Delusion; if such unhappy Creatures would not close their Eyes, lest they should see (d).

Let us attend a Moment to his divine In-E 2 ftructions

(a) Rev. iii. 14. See also Ch. xxii. 19.

(b) St John xv. 1, 2. (c) Verse 4-8. See the Homily of falling from God, Part I. p. 7.

(d) St Matth. xiii. 14, 15.

Aructions _" Hereby we do know that we " know him, if we keep his Commandments.

" He that faith, I know bim, and keepeth not bis Commandments, is a Liar, and the "Truth is not in him. But whoso keepeth

" bis Word, in him verily is the Love of God

" perfetted; hereby know we that we are in " bim. He that faith, be abideth in bim,

" ought himself also so to walk, even as be " walked (a)."

"Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: "Whosoever sinneth, hath not seen bim, neither known bim. Little Children, let no " Man deceive you; he that doth Righteouf-" ness, is righteous, even as He is righteous.

" He that committeth Sin, is of the Devil.-

" For this Purpose the Son of God was ma" nifested, that he might destroy the Works ss of the Devil.

Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit Sin; for his Seed remaineth in " him: And he cannot fin, because he is born of God. In this the Children of God " are manifest, and the Children of the De-wil: Whosoever doth not Rightecusness, is " not of God (b)."

How plain and express are the Marks here laid down by the Holy Spirit; by which Men may judge, whether they belong to God or not ?- He that belongs to God, must walk, even as Christ bimself walked. If we would know that we are in bim, we must keep his Commandments. He that keeps not the divine Commands, knows not God, as be ought to know. He bath not seen him, neither known Bim.

Secondly, he that imagines himself to be righteous, without leading a righteous Life, is entirely deceived.

Thirdly, he that indulges himself in any Sin, is doing the Work of the Devil, and so far runs counter to the very Reason, why Christ was manifested in the Flesh.

And fourthly, as he that doth not Righteousness, is not of God; and as he that committeth Sin, is of the Devil: Therefore such Men cannot be the Children of God. They are not those living Branches, which are ingrafted into Christ; for these bring forth much Fruit with Patience and Perseverance; and labour even to be filled with the Fruits of Righteousness (a). Thus they give Proof, that Christ is formed in them; that he dwells. in their Hearts by Faith; and that they are led by his Spirit (b).

Whereas the others are those fruitless and withered Branches, which, our bleffed Lord affures us, are gathered, and cast into the Fire, and burned. Every Tree, fays the Son of God, that bringeth not forth good Fruit, is hewn down and cast into the Fire (c). Even those

(b) Gal. ii. 20. Ch. iv. 10. Ephes. iii. 17. Rom. viii. 9, 14.

(a) St John xv. 4, 5. St Luke viii. 15. Rom. ii. 6, 7. Phil. i. 11.

(c) St John xv. 2, 6. St Matth. vii. 19-21.

that have prophessed in the Name of Christ, worked Miracles, and cast out Devils, will be commanded to depart from Christ, if they have been Workers of Iniquity (a).

How fatally then must those be deluded, who fancy they may safely indulge in the Works of the Devil; because, as they imagine, Sins are not imputed to the Children of God (b). I pray God preserve every one from such dreadful Delusions! For if a vicious Person or Hypocrite should persuade himself that he was a Child of God, and that therefore his Sins would not be imputed to him; so unhappy a Creature is in a fair Way to sin on, till his Eyes open in the Place of Torments.—If the Light that is in thee be Darkness, how great is that Darkness (c)!

E. I know there is a famous Text, which is often appealed to upon such Occasions.—
He bath not beheld Iniquity in Jacob; neither bath he seen Perverseness in Israel (d).

P. You observe right; this Text has been fadly abused in support of that wretched Opinion; though it can have no manner of Relation to it.

It

(a) Ch. vii. 22, 23.

(c) St Matth. vi. 23.

(b) Quia etiamsi peccent, peccata illis neutiquam imputentur.—St Bernard in Septuag. Serm. i.

(d) Numb. xxiii. 21. It is worth any Scholar's while to fee an excellent Differtation on that Text by our learned Gataker; or an Extract of it in Pool's Synopfis. The Meaning appears plainly to be,—God will not fuffer his People to be injuriously treated, without taking proper Notice of it.

It appears most evidently plain, from the whole Dealings of God with that People, that he was so far from not beholding, or not feeing their Sins, that he made them frequently, for their Sins, a public Example of his righteous Displeasure. Let any one compare the divine Threatenings, in Deuteronomy xxvin. with what has befallen that unhappy Nation, and then consider, whether God did not behold Sin in his own People? That Relation they stood in to God, was fo far from being a Licence to fin, or a Screen to protect them from Punishment, that, according to God's own Declaration, it exposed them the more certainly to it. Let us hear the Words of the Almighty himself, - You only have I known of all the Families of the Earth: Therefore I will punish you for all your Iniquities (a). One would hope, that no serious Christian, who duly laid these Things together, could ever imagine, that the Sins of God's People or Children were not entitled to Punishment, fince it is for this very Reason that he threatens to punish them; because Sin in them was more exceedingly finful; as being highly aggravated in every respect.

And here I must just take notice of another Text of Scripture, which has too often been mistaken and perverted. God Almighty, by his Prophet, tells the Wife of Jeroboam, that their Son only shall come to the Grave, because in bim there is found [fome] good thing toward the Lord God of Israel (a).

From hence very wicked Men may have fometimes received very great Encouragement; that is, in case any thing good was to be found in them. If here was any solid Foundation for Comfort, there are surely sew so entirely abandoned, but might receive great Consolation from hence.

But then the Text really defigns to give no fuch Comfort or Encouragement. It does not mean, that though that Child was exceedingly wicked; yet as there was some good Disposition in him, therefore he was in the Favour of God. It does not mean, that the small good in him made Amends for all the rest that was bad. And yet if this be not the Meaning, the weak Inference, drawn from this Paffage, must fall to the Ground. Nay, it does not fo much as intimate that there was uny Wickedness in him at all. Our Translators having render'd the Passage - some good Thing, may have naturally led a mere English Reader into the Mistake; but it is amazing how Men of Learning could fall into it. The Word [ some] is not in the Original; which, if literally translated, would run thus, _there was found in him a good Word (b) towards the Lord, &c. which, according to the Hebrew Idiom, might be rendered_there was Goodness or a good Intention (a) in him towards God. The Father was a gross Idolater, whilst the Son seems to have been an Enemy to Idolatry, and a Worshipper of the true God. And therefore might design, when it was in his Power, to restore that true Worship, which his Father had corrupted, or rather had entirely overturned.

(a) 1 Kings xiv. 13.

(b) דבר מוב The Septuagint render it פֿאָעם אמאלי, at d the Vulgate Sermo bonus.

So that the Text only mentions the Virtue or Piety of the Youth; without the least Hint or Intimation that he lived in any wilful Sinor Offence against God. And therefore what Encouragement or Comfort can wicked Men receive from this Passage, though they may have fome good Quality or other in them? It is melancholy and astonishing, that the sacred Oracles of God should be thus perverted, to the Ruin of Mankind! But it is an old Device of the great Enemy of Souls, to cause Men to wrest the Words of Life to their own Destruction (b).

E. I hope I shall always endeavour to remember those awful Words of the Holy Spirit,—Whosever shall keep the whole Law, and yet offend in one Point, he is guilty of all (c). If these Words do not discover, that no Christian can safely indulge himself in any one Sine

I know not what can discover it.

P. You observe very right, my dear Friend. That fingle Sentence abundantly demon-

(a) The learned Grotius renders it, Cogitatio bona, nam loqui Hebræis sæpe signissieat Cogitare, in loc.

(b) 2 St Peter iii. 16. (c) St James ii. 10

demonstrates that the whole divine Law must be kept. And that every wilful Violation of any Part of it, is an Affront offered to the Authority of God, whose Law it is; and that such Violation renders us liable to the Displeasure of that God, who is of purer Eyes than to behold Evil; and who cannot look on Iniquity (a) with Approbation.

E. I have still one Favour more to ask, and that is, to be informed, whether according to the Opinion of our Church, Christians, in these Days, may expect the Inspiration and In-dwelling of the Holy Spirit? Whether his Insuences may be distinguished from the natural Operations of our own Minds? What his Illuminations may be? and whether he now ever bears witness with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God?

P. Let us in the first Place observe in general, what a thorough Sense our Church has of the Necellity of God's Holy Spirit.

And first, she declares in one of her Articles, that Works done before the Grace of Christ, and the Inspiration of his Spirit, are not pleafant to God (b). And therefore that all Orders and Degrees of Men may have this Grace, and this Inspiration, we pray, that the King may be replenished with the Grace of [God's] Holy Spirit; that the Royal Family may be endued with the Holy Spirit; and that the healthful Spirit of [Divine] Grace may be sent down down upon our Bishops, and Curates, and all Congregations committed to their Charge (a). That God would cleanse the Thoughts of our Hearts by the Inspiration of his Holy Spirit (b). And inspire continually the universal Church with the Spirit of Truth (c).

(a) Habak. i. 13. (b) Article xiii.

And though our Church be too wife to confound the extraordinary Gifts of the Spirit, such as the Gift of Tongues, the Interpretation of Tongues, the Raising the Dead, and such like miraculous Powers, with those which belong to Christians in all Ages (d); yet we shall find that she supposes, and that with great Truth and Reason, that Christians receive much more from the Holy Spirit, than fome Persons seem inclined to think or be-

But in order to make this appear, we shall next take notice of what we meet with in the Collect for the Festival of St Barnabas.

"O Lord God Almighty, who didst endow thy holy Apostle Barnabas with singular Gifts of the Holy Ghost, leave us not, we beseech thee, destitute of thy manimum fold Gifts, nor yet of Grace to use them alway to thy Honour and Glory, &c.

We see here plainly, that in the Opinion of our Charch, there are manifold Gifts which

(a) See those Prayers.

(c) Prayer for the Church-Militant.

(b) 1st Collect in the Communion Service.

(d) 1 Cor xii. 9, 10, 29, 30. St Matth. xxviii. 20. St John xiv. 16, 17. Hom. for Whitfunday Part ii. p. 278, 279.

which belong to Christians of the present Times; since she prays, that they may not be left destitute of them. And in the Order of Consirmation, the Bishop prays, that God would strengthen the Persons to be consirmed, with the "Holy Ghost; and daily in-" crease in them his manifold Gists of Grace; "the Spirit of Wissom and Understanding, "the Spirit of Counsel and ghostly Strength; the Spirit of Knowledge and true Godlines; and that he would fill them with the "Spirit of his holy Fear."

Farther he prays, "That they may daily increase in God's Holy Spirit more and more; and be led in the Knowledge and

" Obedience of his Word."

But still to see more clearly into our Church's Sentiments, with respect to the Operations of the Holy Spirit, whether relating to the Heart and Affections, or to the Mind and Understanding, let us take a View of the following Petitions, —Grant us his Holy Spirit, that those Things may please him which we do at this present; and that the rest of our Life hereaster may be pure and holy (a).—Take not thy holy Spirit from us (b).—The Fellowship of the Holy Ghost be with us all evermore (c).—Send to us thine Holy Ghost to comfort us (d). Grant that thy Holy Spirit may in all Things direct

(a) Absolution.

(b) Responses after the Lord's Prayer.

(c) Conclusion of Morning and Evening Service.

(d) Sunday after Ascension.

direct and rule our Hearts (a).—Grant that by thy holy Inspiration, we may think those Things that he good (b). Come, Holy Ghost, our Souls inspire; and lighten with celestial of our Church, the Spirit of God is necessary to the directing our Hearts; to the comforting of our Minds; to the thinking what is good; to the doing what is holy; to the enlightening

Fire (c).

We may observe here, that in the Opinion and inspiring our Souls; and to the pleasing of God. And this will yet still further appear. For, speaking of the fantifying and regenerating Power of the Holy Ghost, she observes, that "The more it is hid from our Under-" standing, the more it ought to move all " Men to wonder at the fecret and mighty " working of God's Holy Spirit, which is " within us. For it is the Holy Ghost, and " no other Thing, that doth quicken the "Minds of Men, stirring up good and godly "Motions in their Hearts, which are agree-" able to the Will and Commandment of "God, fuch as otherwise of their own " crooked and perverse Nature they should " never have. That which is born of the Spi-" rit, is Spirit, St John iii. 6. As who hould fay, Man of his own Nature is " fleshly and carnal, corrupt and naught,

" finful and disobedient to God, without any Spark of Goodness in him, without any

virtuous

(a) 19th after Trinity.

(b) 5th after Easter.

(c) Veni Creator.

virtuous or godly Motion, only given to evil Thoughts and wicked Deeds. As for " the Works of the Spirit, the Fruits of Faith, charitable and godly Motions, if he bave any at all in him, they proceed only of the Holy Ghost, who is the only Worker of our Sanstification, and maketh us new Men in Christ Jesus. - Such is the Power of the Holy Ghost, to regenerate Men, and as it were to bring them forth anew, fo that they shall be nothing like the Men they were before. Neither doth he think " it sufficient inwardly to work the spiritual " and new Birth of Man, unless he do also " dwell and abide in him. - O what Comfort is this to the Heart of a true Christian, to think that the Holy Ghost dwelleib within bim (a)!"

Again, " Thou hast received [the Body of " Christ to have within thee, the Father, the " Son, and the Holy Ghost, for to dwell " with thee, to endow thee with Grace, to: " flrengthen thee against thine Enemies, and to comfort thee with their Presence (b). A true Christian is the Temple of the Ho-" ly Ghoft (c)."

As these Passages sufficiently discover what our Church thinks of the In-dwelling of the Spirit; fo they abundantly shew, that she supposes the Operations of that Holy Spirit are very

(a) Homily for Whitsunday, Part I. p. 276, 277.

(b) Hom. of the Resurrection, p. 262.

(c) Hom. against the Fear of Death, Part i. p. 52.

very easy to be distinguished from the natural Workings of our own Minds. For if it be really true, that every good Thought and Difposition proceed from the Spirit of God (a); and every thing bad from a corrupt Heart, and a wicked Tempter (b); it can be no difficult matter to ascribe Good and Evil to their proper Authors. If our Hearts are renewed and sanctified, and produce the Fruits of the Gospel; yet all this is the Work of the Holy Spirit, and to him let the Honour be given. -And as to his dwelling in us; miserable is the Case of that Person, where he dwells not. -For if any Man have not the Spirit of Christ, be is none of bis. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the Dead, dwell in you; be that raised up Christ from the Dead, shall also quicken your mortal Bodies, by his Spirit that dwelleth in you (c) -Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God; and that the Spirit of God dwelletb in you (d)? - And the same Apostle tells the Ephesians, that they were built together for an Habitation of God through the Spirit. And gives them this strict Cautionnot to grieve the Holy Spirit of God, whereby they were sealed unto the Day of Redemption (e). So that, I presume, our Church's Opinion, both as to the Difference between the natural Workings

(a) Gal. v. 22, 23.

(b) St Matth. xv. 19. Gal. v. 19-21. Ephes. vi. 11, 12. 1 Thess. iii. 5. 2 Cor xi. 3.

(c) Rom. viii. 9-11.

(d) 1 Cor. iii. 16. . (e) Ephes. ii. 22. Ch. iv. 30.

Workings of corrupt Nature, and the Operations of the Holy Ghost; as well as to the Dwelling of that divine Spirit within us, is well founded; as having the facred Oracles entirely on her Side.

But let us still further hear her Opinion .-In the 17th Article she mentions " such Per-" fons as feel in themselves the Working of "the Spirit of Christ, drawing up their Mind to high and heavenly Things."

Again, every Deacon, at his Ordination, is thus examined—" Do you trust that you "are inwardly moved by the Holy Ghost, to take upon you this Office and Mini"firation (a)?" And when they come to be ordained Priests, the Bishop acquaints them that they ought, and have need to pray earnestly for God's Holy Spirit. And afterwards, they are admonished, ____ continually to pray for the heavenly Assistance of the Holy Ghest (b). Towards the Conclusion of the Service, the Bishop lays his Hands on the Head of every one; pronouncing these solemn Words, - Receive the Holy Ghost for the Office and Work of a Priest in the Church of God. &c.

Again, in one of the Homilies, after it has been observed, that all Spiritual Gifts come from God by Jesus Christ, we read as follows, — "God give us Grace—to know these "Things, and to feel them in our Hearts.

· This

(a) See the Office for ordaining Deacons.

(b) Exhortation in the Office for ordaining Priefts.

"This Knowledge and Feeling are not in " ourselves ;- Let us therefore meekly call " upon—the Holy Ghost,—that he would affift us, and inspire us with his Pre-

" fence, &c."

And moreover in the same Homily it is declared, that " It is by this Holy Spirit, " which maketh Intercession for us, with " continual Sighs, that we may boldly come in Prayer, and call upon Almighty God, as our Father (a)" Rom. viii. 15, 26. Gal. iv. 6.

But now furely, if, through the Holy Spirit, we are enabled to approach God as our Father, it must appear a sufficient Evidence that we are His Children. The one very plainly follows from the other.

If we are affisted by the Spirit to call God our Father; it is so far bearing Witness, that we are the Children of God. This the great Apostle affirms to be the State of the Christians in those Days (b); and what, but our own Corruptions, can be the Reafon, why that Holy Spirit will no longer bear [the same] Witness with our Spirit? He that believeth on the Son of God, says the beloved Disciple, bas the Witness in himself (c). But what Witness is this, which the Believer has in bimself? No other furely, but the Witness of the Holy Ghost.

The late learned Dr Whithy, who was far from

(a) Homily for Rogation Week, Part iii. p. 293, 294.

(b) Rom. viii. 16. (c) 1 St John v. 10.

from being an Enthusiastic Commentator, thus interprets those Words, _As having in himself that Spirit of God which gives this Testimony to Christ (a). 'Tis true the Testimony here given relates to Christ; but still it is given by the Holy Spirit: And this Holy Spirit is in the Believer. Undoubtedly the Witness of the Spirit that Men are the Children of God, can belong only to those, who are his real Children; as the learned Grotius observes (b): But why it should not be the Privilege of all fuch, in all Ages of Christianity, remains to be proved. If that Holy Spirit will make his Abode in the Minds of true Christians, even to the Time of their Resurrection, as the same great Man affirms (c); or, as is sufficiently intimated by a much greater, even the inspired Apostle St Paul (d); can we suppose he will there abide, without ever giving the same Testimony to the Children of God, which he formerly did?—I know it may be faid, that the Church then enjoyed many great Privileges. and Powers which we enjoy not. However, as the Power, or Right, or Privilege of becoming the Sons of God, belongs now to as many as truly receive Christ by Faith, and

(a) In Loc.

(b) Deus tale donum non dat nisi iis quos pro Filiis habere vult .- in Rom. viii. 16.

(c) Spiritus ille Sanctus in Animis Christianorum habitans, &, si solicitè servetur, ad Mortem, iniò & post Mortem ad Resurrectionem usque, Animis adhærens.—in 1 Thess. v. 23, (d) Rom. viil. LL.

are born of God (a); as all are now the Children of God by Faith in Christ Jesus (b); so is it surely of Consequence now to know, whether Christians are, in Truth and Reality, Children of God; Heirs of God; and Jointbeirs with Christ (c).

This appears to be of the same Importance, in every Age and State of the Church.

E. But may it not be said, that there can be no Occasion for the Holy Spirit thus to bear Witness; since the Apostle has laid down other Marks, by which to judge, whether we are the Children of God, or not: Such as mortifying the Deeds of the Body through the Spirit: And assuring us, that as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the Sons of God (d).

P. It is undoubtedly a most infallible Proof, we are not the Sons of God, if we are not led by bis Spirit; and do not, through bim, mortify the Deeds of the Body.

But will it follow from hence, that God has never given any other way of discovering that Mankind are his Chidren? For if there be any Force in this Argument, it will conclude as well against the first Times, as the present. Or shall Men pretend to limit those Ways; or settle the Number of them? Let us only observe what immediately follows the two Verses you just mentioned.—For ye have not received the Spirit.

(a) St John i. 12, 13, (b) Gal. iii. 26.

(c) Rom. viii. 17. (d) Rom. viii. 13, 14.

of Bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit itself beareth Witness with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God (a).

As if the Apostle had said,—" That Spirit of God, through whom ye must mortify the Deeds of the Body; and by whom you must be led, if you desire to be the Sons of God; that Spirit of God is he, whom you have already received, to convince you of your Sin and Danger, and to deliver you from the Bondage of Corruption, the Dominion of Sin and Satan, and the Fear of Death, into the glorious Liberty of the Children of God:
And he is therefore now to us, the Spirit of Adoption; by whom we are enabled to call God our Father. He it is that now bears Witness within us, or jointly with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God (b)."

This

(a) Verse 15, 16.

(b) I ... umbly apprehend, that by this the Apossle means, some divine Operation of the Holy Stirit upon the Soul; by which we receive a clear and joyful Assurance, that we are the Children of God. For the inquard Kingdom of God is not only Righteousness, but Peace and Joy in the Holy Ghost, Rom. xiv. 17. Ch. v. 1. Ch. xv. 13. —Therefore it is humbly submitted,—Whether "the "Spirit itself bearing Witness with our Stirit, that we "are the Children of God,"—does not seem plainly to include something more than merely Inclination and Power to obey the divine Commands? Undoubtedly, if either

This feems in general to be the plain Meaning and Defign of the Apostle; though some have endeavoured, with great Industry, to explain this obvious Meaning away; by supposing it referr'd only to the working of Miracles.

I will here just further observe, that our Church, speaking of the ancient Patriarchs mentioned by St Paul, [Heb. xi.] thus remarks—" by the coming of our Saviour "Christ, we have received more abundant—" by the Spirit of God in our Hearts, " whereby we may receive a greater Faith, " and a furer Trust than many of them " had (a)."

But let us next proceed to confider, how far our Church supposes the Holy Spirit may enlighten our Minds or Understandings.

And

either Inclination, or Will, or Power, be wanting, I should not scruple to tell the most sanguine Believer, that all his Joy, and Peace, and Assurance, were only so many Delusions.—But yet, when we read of a full Assurance of Faith and Hope; of receiving the Spirit of Adoptin; of his avitnessing with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God; and of being filled with all Joy and Peace in believing;—I can make no doubt, but that inward Witness of the Spirit is sometimes attended with a Strength and Clearness of Evidence, that cannot be resisted; and with a Joy and Peace, that cannot be described. But tho' the Spirit works differently in different Persons, just as infinite Wisdom sees proper: yet, I presume, that "bis" bearing Witness with our Spirit, that we are the Children of God,"—always implies a sufficient Degree of Evidence, immediately communicated to the Soul, and attended with much Joy and Peace in believing.

(a) Hom. of Faith, Part ii. p. 22.

And first, she approves of these Sayings of St Chrysostom, where he thus expresses himself, with regard to the finding out the Sense of the Holy Scripture.—" God himself from above, will give Light unto our Minds, and teach us those Things which are necessary

"for us, and wherein we be ignorant."—
"Man's human or worldly Wisdom, or Science, is not needful to the understanding of Scripture, but the Revelation of "the Holy Ghost, who inspireth the true "Meaning unto them, that with Humili"ty and Diligence do search therefore (a)."

At the Ordination of a Priest, the Bishop, thus prays,—" That we may daily increase and go forwards in the Knowledge and " Faith of thee and thy Son, by the Holy « Spirit."

Again, our Church, speaking of divine Wisdom, observes that This Wydom cannot be attained, but by the Direction of the Spirit of God (b).—This Holy Spirit will suggest unto us that [which] shall be wholesome, and confirm us in all Things (c).

And therefore it is no Wonder, that our Church thus addresses herself to God—Grant us, by the same Spirit, to have a right Judgment in all Things (d).

Moreover,

(a) Hom. of the Holy Scripture, Part. ii. p 5.

(b) Hom. for Rogation-Week, Part iii. p. 294.

(c) P. 297. (d) Collect for Whitfunday.

Moreover, at the Confectation of every Bishop, and at the Ordination of a Priest, these Words are repeated,— Enable with perpetual Light The Dulness of our blinded Sight.

Or else the following,

O Holy Ghost, into our Minds Send down thy heavenly Light (a).

And further, at the Confectation of a Bifhop, the Archbishop enquires of the Bishop elect, — Whether he will faithfully exercise himself in the Holy Scriptures, and call upon. God by Prayer for the true understanding of the same (b)?

But must not this true understanding arise from the Holy Spirit? And whether we call such Assistance of the Spirit, by the Name of Influence, Direction, Illumination, Suggestion, or Inspiration; where is the Difference? Some Operation of the Holy Spirit, it certainly must be: Though bow, or in what Way, or Manner, that divine Spirit shall see proper to operate, cannot render it less a divine Operation.

But lastly, the Archbishop prays, that God would so endue [the Bishop] with his Holy Spirit, that he preaching the Word [of God] may be earnest to reprove, heseech, and rebuke

(a) Veni Creator. See the Consecration and Ordination Service.

(b) Confecration of Bishops.

buke,—and also may be a wholesome Example to Believers (a).

So that the Holy Spirit is here evidently prayed for, not only that the Bishop may be a Pattern to others; but also that he may be enabled to instruct both by earnest Reproof and Exhortation.

All which plainly imply not only the fanctifying Influences of the Holy Ghoft; but also spiritual Strength, Courage, and Refolution, - constantly to speak the Truth; boldly to rebuke Vice; and patiently to suffer for the Truth's sake, as our Church elsewhere expresses herself (b). For though these three last Petitions are not there particularly applied to one Order of Pastors more than another; yet they must in a very eminent Degree belong to those of the bigher Order; as being, by their great Superiority of Station, most capable of doing an Honour to Religion. They are, in a very peculiar Manner, what our bleffed Lord calls_the Light of the World; and a City that is set on an Hill (c). Confequently a diligent preaching the Holy Word of God (d); a resolute and bold rebuking of Vice, in all Orders and Degrees of Men whatever; an earnest reproving of Sinners, without Favour, Fear, or Affection; a painful, and constant enforcing the Truths of the Go/pel; and the patiently bearing any Reproach, proach, Contempt, or Persecution for the Sake of those divine Truths; all these must prove of greater Weight and Influence from fuch, than the same Behaviour in obscurer Persons. And therefore it is highly necessary, in order to answer these great Purposes, that they should be endued, in a very singular manner, with God's Holy Spirit. That fo by the Exemplariness of their Lives and Behaviour, and the Soundness of their Instructions, their Light may so shine before Men, that they may see their good Works, and glorify their Father, which is in Heaven (a). And thus our Church expressly prays in the fol-lowing Words,—" Give Grace, O heavenly " Father, to all Bishops and Curates, that " they may both by their Life and Dottrine "fet forth thy true and lively Word, and " rightly and duly administer thy Holy Sa-" craments (b)."

(a) Second Prayer before the Benediction.

(b) Collect for St John Eaptist's Day.

(c) St Matth. v. 14. (d) Collect for St Peter's.

Here the Grace or Affistance of the Holy Spirit is requested, that both the superior and inferior Pastors may so live, and so instruct, as may best promote the Truths of God's divine Word; and that they might likewise administer his Holy Sacraments in a suitable and becoming manner. And this again, with some further Addition, is petitioned for in that excellent Prayer, called the Litany.—
"That it may please thee to illuminate all Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, with true

(a) St Matth. v. 16.

(b) Prayer for the Church Militant.

" Knowledge and Understanding of thy Word, " and that both by their Preaching and Liv" ing they may fet it forth, and shew it ac" cordingly."

Here we beseech the Father of Lights to illuminate or enlighten all the three Orders of our Church with divine Knowledge and Understanding; and that, according to the Meafure bestowed on them, they may, both by their Preaching and Living, set forth and declare the facred Word of God. All which very manifestly proves, that, in the Opinion of our Church, the Illumination of the Spirit of God is necessary to their true Knowledge and Understanding of his divine Word; and for the enforcing of it, both by their Lives and Dostrines.

And thus have I endeavoured to fatisfy your Enquiries, concerning our Church's Opinion, with regard to the present Operations or Influences of the Holy Spirit*.

E. It appears indeed pretty plain, what our Church thinks of these Things. But I have often heard a great Difference made between immediate Inspiration, and an Inspiration or Influence which is not immediate.

P. What-

* If fuch Operations of the Holy Spirit have a plain Foundation in the Gospel, how melancholy is the Reflection, that the looking for them should be called by the learned Bishop of Glouceper, " Superstitious and fanatical!" Effay on Grace .- May that illuminating Spirit instruct him better!

P. Whatever Difference there may be in the Manner of the Holy Spirit's displaying his Power; yet surely, if a Person's Mind be enlightened, or his Heart cleansed by this divine Spirit;—whether these Effects are produced by an immediate Influence, or by the Interposition of some Means or Instrument; yet the Effects are still equally owing to the Spirit of God.

When our bleffed Lord applied Glay to the Eyes of the Blind, before he reftored his Sight; was that Miracle the less owing to his divine Power? Or was not here altogether the fame divine Power that cured the Leper, only with faying,—I will, be thou clean?

If it should be objected, that there is a wide Difference between making use of Means that can have no Tendency to cure, or which are rather opposite to it; and making use of Means that seem to co-operate; and which only want a Blessing to attend them: If this should be objected, it must be owned, that there is undoubtedly a great deal of Difference in the Nature of Means. But then, where the most promising Means will not do, without the Assistance of the Holy Spirit: nay, where the felf-same Means will always succeed with him, but never without him, there surely the whole is to be ascribed to him.

The same divine Word, for Instance, proved a Savour of Life unto Life to some; but a Savour of Death unto Death to others (a).

The Preaching of Christ crucified was to the Jews a Stumbling-block; and to the Greeks, Foolishness: But to many, it proved the Power of God, and the Wisdom of God (b). Here was the same divine Word of the same divine Spirit; and yet it proved, for Want of his divine Power upon the Soul, of no Force or Efficacy with regard to Numbers. His efficacious Influence was wanting, which those Persons were not fit to receive. And indeed without fuch Influence, the divine Word will prove but a dead Letter to us, and leave us in the Gall of Bitterness, and Bond of Iniquity. This is the true Reafon, why fome may often bear and read the Gospel, without believing one Word of it. And this is the Reason, why so many others, who call themselves Believers, are not one whit the better for all their Belief. This difcovers the absolute Necessity of the Holy Spirit's constant Assistance -Though whether mediate or immediate, should be left to him, who knows best in what Manner and Meafure to work in us.

The great Apostle, who had undoubtedly instructed the Ephesians, what was the Hope of God's Calling, and what the Riches of the Glory of his Inheritance in the Saints; and what the exceeding Greatness of his Power; yet prays that the Eyes of their Understanding may be enlightened in order to know these Things (a): And exhorts them to be filled with the Spirit (b). And surely, if divine Illumination was wanted after such an Instructor; can any wise and serious Christian think the same Illumination to be now needless? But whatever may be supposed by some, it is evident our Church thinks more wisely.

However, if Men will but allow, that the Assistance of the Holy Spirit is altogether necessary to the opening and instructing of the Mind; to the softening and purifying the Heart; and to the carrying us through the great Work of Salvation, never dispute with them about the Form of their Expressions.

E. As I am sensible of my Obligations for this Trouble; so am I sensible that my great Business is, to obtain this divine Assistance for conducting me safe through this World, to the Regions of everlasting Happiness.

P. That, my dear Friend, is undoubtedly the main and principal Business of every one. And therefore I shall just add a few short Cautions and Directions, which may prove of some further Service to you. And now, if you do but thoroughly consider the true Nature of the Gospel of Christ, you will certainly conclude, that all those various Ways, which Men have taken to break the Force of its divine Precepts and Doctrines, trines, are only so many various Delusions of the Devil.—Some, for Instance, have imagined, that certain of its Precepts are not binding in themselves; but are only what may, or may not be complied with, just according to our own Choice and Liking. These, by the Church of Rome, are called Counsels of Perfession.—See Bishop Burnet on Article xiv.

(6) Ephes. v. 18.

(a) Ephes. i. 17-19. See Acts xx. 17-21.

Others have talked of a fecret Will in God, which differs from that which is revealed. And which Opinion directly fets afide the whole Authority of divine Revelation. For it is only supposing that what I do not approve of in Revelation, is contrary to the fecret Will of God; and then the whole Force of his revealed Will is lost upon me. It is much the same thing, and must have just the same Effects, with supposing some Doctrines in the sacred Writings are of divine Authority; whilst others have only been foisted in by ignorant and defigning Men. For what Weight can the Holy Scriptures have with us, whilst we are under the Influence of fuch a Delusion? We shall infallibly ascribe every thing, which we do not like, to the Miftakes of some, or the Crast of others: And consequently the whole Force of such Doctrines, or Precepts, will vanish into Air .-Be affured, God has taken more Care of his divine Word, than some Men apprehend. However, I would not be misunderflood; I do not mean to fay, that there are no various Readings in the facred Oracles; for there are many thousands in the New Testament. But then, when it is considered, that none of these Variations make the least material Difference either as to the Faith or Practice of a Christian, the Greatness of the Number is only a stronger Confirmation, God has taken even a miraculous Care of his own facred Truths.

A late learned Writer, speaking of these various Lestions, thus expresses himself, — "Nor is one Article of Faith or moral Pre-" cept either perverted or lost in them; choose " as aukwardly as you can, choose the worst by Design, out of the whole Lump of Read-" ings (a)."

. But again, some have thought that the ftricter Precepts of the Gospel (those particularly contained in our Lord's divine Sermon on the Mount) related only to the Apostles; though nothing is more evident, than that our bleffed Lord delivered these divine Doctrines to the People, as well as to them: For we read, that the People were astonished at his Dostrine (b).

Others have gone a Step farther, and supposed that the whole Gospel must abate of its original Strictness; as being far too high for the Attainment of Mankind. So that fince we are not able to reach up to that; it must therefore itself come down to us.—As these Persons seem only to have an Eye at their own Strength and Abilities, it is no wonder they despair of Success. But let such remember, that a Power superior to their own, is ready to make them more than Conquerors: And that it is their own Fault, if they cannot do all Things through Christ that strengthens them (a). The Holy Spirit never amuses Men with vain Shadows; nor proposes strister Duties, than he is both able and willing to assist us in performing.

fince

(a) Remarks upon Freethinking, by Philelutherus Lipfierfis. Part 1. Sect. 32.

(b) St Matth. vii. 28. See the learned Grotius and Hammond on St Matth. v. 1.

If any Man will come after me, says the Son of God, let him deny himself, and take up his Cross daily, and follow me (b). To the same Purpose spake our blessed Lord to the Multitude, as well as to his own Disciples (c). No doubt, this appeared a very bard Say-

No doubt, this appeared a very bard Saying to many; but it was not the less true, even in the strictest Sense of the Words. But if we should fancy ourselves not much concerned in this barsh Sentence, in these Days of Plenty, and Ease, and Prosperity, we shall find that we are unhappily mistaken. For though we should not suffer Persecution for resolving to live godly in Christ Jesus (d): for not being consormed to this World:

(a) Rom. viii. 35-39. Philip. iv. 13.

(b) St Luke ix. 23.

(c) St Mark viii. 34. St Luke xiv. 25-27, 33.

(d) 2 Tim. iii. 12.

World; to the Vices, Follies, and Vanities of a wretched, thoughtless Age:—Though we should not be exposed to any kind of ill Treatment, for labouring to be transformed by the renewing of our Mind (a); for setting our Affections on Things above (b); and having our Conversation in Heaven (c); yet every wise Christian must know, that there is abundant room for daily obeying this Command of Christ, even in the midst of the greatest Plenty, Ease, and Prosperity.

It is indeed greatly to be feared, that all do not think of daily denying themselves in such Circumstances, and of taking up their Cross, and following Christ; but still his divine Command is in full Force: And they who reject it, are neither his Disciples, nor worthy of him (d).—In short, if Mankind would but part with their Pride, their Luxury, their Wrath, their Covetousness, their vicious Hearts, and worldly Minds, they would never imagine that the Gospel of Christ was too strict, or too severe.

But again, some others have gone so surprising a length, as not only to affirm, but even to attempt to prove it, from the Gospel itself,—that all shall be saved, let them two as they will!—If such Writers are serious, as may be much questioned, their Minds must be too much distempered to be capable

of

(a) Rom. xii. 2. (b) Col. iii. 1, 2.

(c) Phil. iii. 20.

(d) St Luke xiv. 27. St Math. x. 38.

of being reasoned with. But if they are acting only the Part of Buffoons, I pray God they may see their Wickedness, before it be too late.

All these Notions, and others of a like nature, may be esteemed more or less as the Depths of Satan, to beguile unwary Souls; to tempt them from the Simplicity of the Gospel; and to carry them from one degree of Folly and Infatuation to another. These Notions, my dear Friend, are not the Truth as it is in Jesus.

You, and I, and every Christian, are called to high and glorious Privileges.

Even to abide in Christ; and Christ in us (a). To put on the Lord Jesus Christ (b). To glory in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ; to be crucified unto the World; and to have the World crucified unto us. To have Christ formed in us; and dwelling in our Hearts by Faith. And the Life which we live in the Flesh, to live by the Faith of the Son of God (c).

In a word, To have our Conversation in Heaven; to be an Habitation of God through the

(a) St John xv. 4, 5.

(b) Rom. iii. 14. Gal. iii. 27. εἰ γὰρ Χρισὸν τὸν εἰὸν τῷ Θεῷ ἐνδεδύμεθα, καὶ ϖρὸς αὐτὸν ἐφωμοιωθημεν. εἰς μίαν συθγένειαν κὰ μίαν ἰδέαν ἢχθημεν, χάριτι γεΓονότες ὅπερ ἐκεῖνός ἐσι φύσει Theoph. in Gal. iii. 27.

Christum induunt vere Christiani quique a Deo sibi, tum 1, imputantum, ad justificationem; tum 2, impertitum, ad sanctificationem.—Gatak. Cinni. cap. ix. p. 101, 102.

(c) Gal. vi. 14. Ch. iv. 19. Ephes. iii. 17. Gal.

ii. 20.

the Spirit; to be filled with all the Fulness of God: And to be made Partakers of the divine Nature (a):

Thus, in the Language of our own Church, are we to dwell in Christ, and Christ in us; We are to be One with Christ, and Christ with us (b). And moreover we pray, that we may evermore dwell in him, and he in us (c).

And furely sufficient Reason is there thus perpetually to pray; fince our bleffed Lord has himself assured us, that without bim [if separated from him we can do nothing (d). As our holy Lord had been just comparing the Union betwixt himself and his Disciples, to the Vital Union betwixt a Vine and its Branches; it is evident he here speaks of fuch a Separation from himfelf (e), as cuts off all spiritual Communications to the Soul, and leaves us destitute of all divine Life. So deplorable is the State of being without Christ !- Undoubtedly, my dear Friend, the Religion of the Gospel is a very great Work; and there are many Adversaries. every true Christian take Courage; for greater is be that is in them, than be that is in the (a) Philip. iii. 20. Ephes. ii. 22. Ch. iii. 19. 2 St Peter i. 4. See also 1 St John ii. 20, 24. Ch. iii. 24. Ch. iv. 13, 15. Ch. v. 20.

(b) Exhortation in the Communion Service.

(c) Prayer before the Prayer of Confectation.
(d) St John xv. 5.

(e) χωρίς έμε, i. e. χωρισθέντες απ' έμε, feparati à me. Piscator in Loc.

the World (a). And happy is it, that he is so; since Christians are so thickly beset with Enemies. They must not only look for Insults, Reproach, and Contempt, from a vain bad World; but may expect that even their own irregular Appetites and Passions will enter into a formal Controversy, and go near to demand,—What they were given for?—To which, I think, you may well reply, that with regard to the State they are in,

-they were not given by God at all.

God created nothing irregular. All that he made, was good. God created Man in bis own Image, and after his own Likeness. He made Man upright; but they have fought out many Inventions (b). All their Irregularities are therefore owing to a subtil Tempter; to corrupt Nature, and to Mens indulging of it. But as it was the great Defign of Christ's coming into the World to restore that divine Life which we had lost; to renew us in the Spirit of our Mind; to bestow on us that new Man, which after God is created in Righteousness and true Holiness; -which is renewed in Knowledge, after the Image of him that created him (c); Therefore all irregular Defires, all inordinate Affections (as being opposite to these. great Ends) must not only be restrained and bridled.

(a) 1 St John iv. 4.

(b) Gen. i. 26, 27, 31. Eccles. vii. 29.

(c) Rom. vi. 23. 1 Cor. xv. 22. 2 Cor. v. 18, 19. Ephes. iv. 22-24. Col. iii. 10.

bridled, but also entirely subdued and mortified (a).

And now, as the facred Oracles contain the Mystery of God and of Christ; in whom are hid all the Treasures of Wisdom and Knowledge(b); let me advise you frequently to meditate on the divine Truths which are therein contained. Be assured, you will never repent of the Time thus laid out. Do not be asraid of being over-lavish of your Pains and Labour in such a Study, since it will bring its own Reward along with it.

from that very learned Prelate, the late excellent Bishop Stillingsleet, where he treats of the divine Authority of the Scriptures.—
"How dry and sapless are all the voluminous Discourses of Philosophers, compared with this Sentence,—Jesus Christ came in-

And here I must mention a few Lines

"to the World to fave Sinners! I Tim. i. 15.
"How jejune and unfatisfactory are all the "Discoveries they had of God and his "Goodness, in Comparison of what we " have by the Gospel of Christ! Well might Paul then say, - That he determined to " know nothing but Christ, and him crucified, I Cor. ii. 2. Christ crucified is the Li" brary which Triumphant Souls will be ftu" dying in to all Eternity. This is the on-"that which cures the Soul of all its Ma-" ladies and Distempers. Other Knowledge " makes Mens Minds giddy and flatulent; "this settles and composes them. Other Knowledge is apt to swell Men into high Conceits and Opinions of themselves; this "brings them to the truest View of them-

" felves; and thereby to Humility and So" briety. Other Knowledge leaves Mens " Hearts as it found them; this alters them,

" and makes them better. So transcendent

" an Excellency is there in the Knowledge " of Christ crucified, above the sublimest Spe" culations in the World (a)."

All these beautiful Observations, I am certain, you will find true, by your own happy Experience. But then, as Humility of Mind, and Holiness of Heart, are the best Key to the Gospel of Christ (b), next to divine Illumination; therefore I beseech you to petition constantly for an humble and sanctified Spirit: Since these will go a great way towards clearing up of many Difficulties. Our Church fays, that " he profits most in read-" ing the Word of God, that is most turn-" ed into it; that is most inspired with the " Holy Ghost; [who is] most in his Heart " and Life altered and changed into that "Thing which he readeth: He that is dai-" ly less and less proud, less wrathful, less covetous, and less desirous of worldly and se main

(a) Origines Sacræ, 1. iii. c. vi. p. 256. Edit. 5.

(b) St Matth. v. 8. St John v. 44. Ch, vii. 17. St James i. 5. Ch. iv. 6. 1 St Pet. v. 5.

" vain Pleasures: He that daily (forsaking his old vicious Life) increaseth in Virtue

" more and more (a)."

And now, may every Professor of Christianity sincerely pray to be thus qualified, for the Sake of the Great Author and Finisher of our Faith.

E. And may I, in particular, my dear Friend, reap the Benefit of your kind Advice and Instructions.

P. I pray God fucceed them, my good Friend, Eugenius.

(a) Hom. of the Reading and Knowledge of the Holy Scripture, Part I. p. 3.

APPENDIX.

HAVING very lately met with a Book, wrote by a learned Gentleman, in which are some sew things very different, in my humble Opinion, from the Destrine of the Gospel; I chose, by way of Appendix, to take some Notice of them in this separate Manner, rather than to disperse the Remarks through various Parts of the Dialogues.

It was not judged material to mention the Author's Name, as the Reader is only defired to confider the Arguments, which are here offered.

But first, let us attend to that glorious Description of Divine Faith, which the Sacred Oracles have given us.

" Faith is the Substance of Things hoped for; the Evidence of Things not seen.

"It is a Principle of the Operation of God; which purifies the Heart; and gains the Victory over the World; [its Terrors, Allurements and Temptations "It works by "Love; is the Breast-plate of Righteousness;

" and a Shield, which can quench all the fiery

" Darts of the Devil (a)."

Here

(a) Heb. xi. 1. Col. ii. 12. Acts xv. 9. Ch. xxvi. 18. 1 St John v. 4. Gal. v. 6. 1 Thess. v. 8. Ephes. vi. 14, 16. Të πονηρέ.

Here then is a divine living Principle, sufficient to stir up every Faculty of the Soul; and to inspire us with Courage and Resolution to trample the World, and the God of it, under our Feet.

Let this be now compared with the Defcription given of Faith by the ingenious Writer just mentioned.

"Faith signifies the believing the Word of God; assenting to it; relying, or resting

" upon it; and acting accordingly."

Can it be any wonder, that fuch a Faith should leave Men in Sin; and that "Death "must be sent at last to kill it;" and thus give the Believer a final Deliverance? For furely the Faith here described can never make Felix, nor the Jailor, tremble. It can never, by any Virtue of its own, cause one Soul to cry out, —What must I do to be faved? Nor can it, by any intrinsic Power in itself, gain the Vistory over the World, the Flesh, or the Devil. For do not we see Multitudes of warm Professors, who believe, assent, rely, and rest, upon the Word of God;—and yet continue all their Lives in the Gall of Bitterness, and Bond of Iniquity?—Slaves to all the Follies, the Vanities, the Pleasures, and Pride of Life?—And what should restrain them? Not this Faith most certainly! For this, not being a Faith of the Operation of God, can have no supernatural or divine Influence over them .- It not being a divine living Principle inspired by the Spirit of God, can never give any spiritual Life to a Soul dead in Sin; nor enable it to att according to the divine spiritual Gospel of the Lord Jesus!

the divine spiritual Gospel of the Lord Jesus!
So wide is the Difference between a Faith, which none but God can inspire; and a Faith, which every proud Pharisee may lay claim to!

And therefore, is it surprizing, that such a Believer should be for ever complaining of falling short in Duty? This, he certainly will and must do, whilst Conscience retains any Power of reproving.

However, his Comfort is, (provided he can take Comfort in it) that Christ is his Lawfulfiller;—that Christ has kept the Law for Him!—Consequently, it may well be asked,—What would this weak Believer have? Would he keep, for instance, the Ten Commandments? For what Reason?—Has not Christ kept them for Him? Or does he think he can keep them better Himself?—Why then should he indulge this legal Spirit?—However, so it is; that every time, such weak Believers break one of the divine Commands, their Conscience is apt to fly in their Face, and make them quite miserable!

One would think, that some of the following Scriptures had fastened upon their Minds!

"If ye love me, says the blessed Jesus,
"here was Commandments. He that both are

"keep my Commandments. He that hath my "Commandments, and keepeth them, he it is " that loveth me. If a Man love me, he will keep my Words. He that loveth me not,

" keepeth

" keepelh not my Sayings.—Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much Fruit.—

" If ye keep my Commandments, ye shall abide in my Love; even as I have kept my Fa-

" in my Love; even as I have kept my Pa" ther's Commandments, and abide in his Love.

"-Ye are my Friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." -St John xiv. 15, 21, 23, 24. Ch. xv. 8, 10, 14.

"By this," fays the beloved Disciple of Christ, "we know that we love the Children of God, when we love God and keep his "Commandments. For this is the Love of God, that we keep his Commandments; and his Commandments are not grievous."

-1st Epist. v. 2, 3.

St Paul declares, that "we are the work-" manship of God, created in Christ Jesus " unto good Works; which God hath before " ordained, that we should walk in them." He prays that the Colossians, " might be ena-" bled to walk worthy of the Lord unto all " pleasing; being fruitful in every good Work." And he directs Titus, " constantly to affirm, " that they which have believed in God, " might be careful to maintain good Works (a)." And only to mention one or two Passages more, "The Dead were judged every Man " according to their Works. Bleffed are they," fays the Alpha and Omega, " That do his "Commandments, that they may bave right to " the Tree of Life. I will give unto every " one of you, according to your Works. " Hold

(a) Ephes. 2. 10. Colos. i. 10. Titus iii. 8.

"Hold that fast, which thou hast, that no "Man take thy Crown." Revel. xx. 13. Ch. xxii. 14. Ch. ii. 23. Ch. iii. 11. But now, is it possible for a serious Christian, to attend to these awful Declarations; (even though he knows he must be faved of mere Grace only), and not feel a deep Concern for so frequently falling short in the discharge of his Duty? - And yet a very ferious Chriftian declares ;- " that Believers will never " live comfortably, till they see the Law dead " and buried!"

I had much rather they could fee " the of old Man dead and buried! The whole cor-" rupt Nature crucified; and the Body of Sin " destroyed; that so, they might not bence-forth serve Sin!" But on the contrary, be " dead indeed unto Sin; but alive unto " God, through Jesus Christ our Lord!" Rom. vi. 6, 11. For I fear there are but too great a Number already of these comfortable Believers in the World! Such stout-bearted ones, as feldom betray a legal Spirit, when they have violated any Branch of the divine Law. But who being hardened through the Deceitfulne/s of Sin, are able to fin on, with much Peace and Tranquillity of Mind!

Believer, whoever thou art, let me intreat thee, not to be afraid of bumbling thyself before God, under every Deviation from the divine Commands. Otherwise, thy Spirit will grow more flack and remis; and thy fleety Negligence will make thee pay dear, for having been more afraid of a legal Spirit, than of violating the Law of God!

Indeed, when Men are taught, that " though God is able to fave them from the very being of Corruption, now as well as " in Heaven; but that it is not bis Mind " and Will: And that he will fend Death to kill Sin:"—I say, when they are thus taught, can such Dostrines tend to stir them up-" to cleanse themselves from all Filthiness of the Flesh and Spirit; and to perfect Ho-" liness in the Fear of God (a)? Or to use all " Diligence to add one Grace to another; and " even to abound in them; that so they may " be neither flothful (b), nor unfruitful in " the Knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ (c)." So far from it; that without more Light and Power, than such Dostrines have any tendency to inspire, the Believer will only fink deeper into the fleep of Sin and eternal Death: And may contentedly wait for Holiness, till both Holiness and Heaven are shut up from him!

But surely, whatever tends to slacken our Zeal and Diligence in seeking after universal Holiness (which implies universal Obedience) can never proceed from the Gospel of Christ! And further, when God promises his People, to cleanse them from all their Filhiness and all their Idols:—To give them a new Heart and a new Spirit:—To put his [holy] Spirit within them; and to cause them to walk in his Statutes, and to keep his Judgments, " and do them (a);" Can'ft thou, Believer, imagine, it is time enough, to part with all thy Filthiness, and all thy Idols, when thou comest into the Regions of Holiness? Or that it will be foon enough to receive the holy Spirit to cause thee to walk in the divine Statutes, and to keep and do the divine Judgments, -" when Death is sent to kill Sin?" Believer, reflect attentively on thy bigh Privileges!

(a) 2 Cor. vii. 1. (b) afyes.

(c) 2 St Pet. i. 5, 8.

Thou art called to be " an Habitation of "God, through the Spirit; -to be spiritually " united to Christ; and to have Christ dwell" ing in thy Heart by Faith; and out of his

" Fulness to receive, and Grace for Grace:" Thou art also called to " a Fellowship

" with the Holy Ghost; to have the King-" dom of God fet up within thee, -even Righ" teousness, and Peace, and Joy in the Holy Ghost: And even to be filled with all the "Fulness of God (b)!"—How can'st thou therefore imagine, -that it is agreeable to the Mind and Will of God, that the Kingdom of the Devil should also continue within thee, till Death comes to destroy it?

Art thou not called to " put off the old " Man and his Deeds; and to put on the new " Man, which after God is created in Righ-

(a) Ezek. xxxvi 25-27.

(b) Ephes. ii. 22. St John xv. 4-7. 1 St John i. 3. Ephes. iii. 17. St John i. 16. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. St Luke xvii. 21. Rom. xiv. 17. Ephes. iii. 19.

" teousness and true Holiness?" Ephes. iv. 22 -24. But can the old Man be thus put off; and yet live and rule in thy Soul? Or dost thou think it needful he should live there, as long as thou livest upon Earth, in order to make and keep thee humble? Be affured, that one powerful Ray of divine Grace will make thee more bumble and boly, than poring upon thy Corruptions, for twenty Years together! God gives us a Sight of them to bumble us; but this will not cleanse us. Dream not therefore of any Necessity for thy continuing a Leper.—Christ came on purpose to "make" an End of Sin, and to bring in everlasting Righteousness." He is now willing and able to cleanse thee of thy Leprosy !- Therefore oppose not thy Unbelief to his Will or Power! Be not faithless, but believing:—All Things are possible to him that believelb. Believe therefore; and the Victory is thine! Take heed, Believer, lest thy Unbelief prevent many mighty Works from being wrought in thy Soul! However, be strictly careful, that thy Faith be of the right Kind ; Faith of the Operation of God; working by Love, and bringing forth all the Fruits of Righteousness; for thou art called to be filled with them. Moreover, pray earnestly, that the Love of God may be shed abroad in thy Heart by the Holy Ghost; and that thou mayest love Him, with thy whole Heart, and Soul, and Mind, and Strength (a); and that that thou mayest be armed with the whole Armour of God; and then fear not but Satan and all his Host will fly before thee! "Be thou only thus strong in the Lord, and in the Power of his Might (a)." But let not the great Apostle of the Gentiles prove a stumbling-block to thee! He was no more set for thy Fall, than his great Master. Both indeed have unhappily proved so to many! But it was entirely their own Fault: And therefore, I intreat, that thou wouldst not increase the Number!

(a) Dan, ix. 24. St Matth. viii. 2, 3. St John xx. 27. St Mark ix. 23. 1 St John v, 4. St Matth. xiii. 58. Col. ii. 12. Gal. v. 6. Phil. i. 11. Rom. v. 5. St Mark xii. 30.

Do not fay, that "the Atofile Paul, even "after he had gloriously preached Christ for

" above twenty Years, was, by his own Confession, -Wretched, and Carnal, and fold

" under Sin (b):" And then conclude, that " it would be Folly and Prefumption in thee,

" to expect to be less wretched, less carnal,

" or less fold under Sin."

This wretched Logic; which it is to be feared has ruined Thousands of Souls, will but hold thee faster in the Chain of thy Sins; and consequently keep thee much longer out of the glorious Liberty of the Children of God! It has indeed the Authority of the great St Austin; but what Pity is it, that he ever altered his first Thoughts! For after his Mind was beated (or as the learned Dr Whithy expresses it, after it was foured) by the Pelagian Controversie, his Sentiments were all changed for the worse (a). Before this fatal Period, he expressly and frequently says, that the Apostle was only describing "a Man under the "the Law, before Grace." And elsewhere he thus mentions his Opinion,—"The Apostle "feems to me in that Place to have taken upon himself, the Person of one, who was under the Law (b).—Of the same Sentiments appear all the Fathers before St Aufin; and all the Greek Commentators (c)." And happy had it been for the World, had St Austin never been provoked to change his Opinion! Since, as the same learned Dr Whithy observes, "it gave Occasion to the " perverting the plain Sense of the Apostle (d)." However, our ingenious Author " esteems it as a Proof that the Apostle was there fpeaking of himself; because he mentions himself Thirty-eight Times." Let us therefore examine, whether the Number of Times can prove this favourite Point.

(a) Ephes. vi. 10-18. (b) Rom. vii. 14, 24.

For supposing St Paul had repeated these G Words

- (a) Post autem Animum erga Pelagianos acerbatum, omnia in pejus, pro more mutavit,
- (b) Describitur Homo sub Lege positus ante Gratiam.

  —Liber expos. quat. propos. ex Epist. ad Rom.—Quo loco videtur mihi Apostolus transsigurasse in se Hominem sub Lege positum Ad Simplic. Mediol. Lib. I.
- (c) Est porro insuper notandum Patres omnes ante Augustinum existimasse Apostolum Paulum à commatte saltem decimo quarto hæc scripsisse, non de seipso jam renato sit Commentatores Græsi omnes.
- (d) See the learned Dr's Stricturæ Patrum, and his Commentary in loc.

Words, -" through my Lye (a)" -even forty Times, instead of Thirty eight; -would our ingenious Author have concluded, that the Apostle really meant a Lye of his own? Or suppose, that St James had, as often said therewith (that is, with the Tongue) " curfe " we Men (b)," would this be any Proof, that he defigned to include himself? Or if St Peter had faid fifty Times (c), - when we " walked in abominable Idolatries," - yet, who would have concluded from thence, that he had bimielf, been an abominable Idolater? And lastly, suppose that our boly Lord had, even five bundred Times, called the Bread, bis Body, and the Wine bis Blood; would this in the Opinion of our Author, have been any Proof of Transubstantiation? I durst say it would not. Therefore the mere Repetition of a Word or Sentence can neither help us to the true Meaning, nor make the least Alteration in it.

However, this learned Writer thinks he has found a Demonstration, from the viiith of the Romans, Verse 2, that St Paul did certainly speak of bimself in those Parts of the seventh Chapter — Let us view it. "The Law of the "Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus," says the Apostle, "bath made me free from the Law of "Sin and Death," Rom. viii. 2. This, it seems, is a Demonstration, that this very Apostle was then carnal and sold under Sin!

How

(a) Rom. iii. 7.

(b) St James iii. 9.

(c) 1 St Pet. iv. 3.

How differently does the same Demonstration affect different Persons! I have always taken this Verse as a plain Demonstration of just the Contrary! And that I may not be thought singular in it; I shall mention the Sentiments of a truly learned and pious Divine, who must be esteemed (at least in the present Case) to be a very unprejudiced Judge.—

"To suppose," says the late Reverend Dr Doddridge, "the Apostle speaks all these "Things of bimself, as the confirmed Christian, that he really was when he wrote this "Frielle is not only foreign but contrary to " Epistle, is not only foreign, but contrary to "the whole Scope of his Discourse, as well as to what is expressly afferted, Ch. viii. 2. (a)."

Let us next proceed to what our learned Author tells us, concerning imputed Righteousness.

"This, he affirms, the Apostle has not "ferupled to mention eleven Times in one "Chapter, Rom. iv." They, who can discover imputed Righteousness mentioned eleven Times in that Chapter, have, I must confess, a superior Eye-sight to mine—I can only find in that Chapter, the Apostle speaking, six or seven Times, of Faith imputed for Righteousness;—that is, Faith imputed or reckoned as the Mean or Instrument of Justification, as our own Church expresses it in her Homilies (b); because by, or through Faith, we are justified (a); that is, by, or through Faith, we embrace the pardoning Love of God. And therefore, when St Paul varies his Phrase, in this Chapter; and mentions—" God im"puting Righteousness;" Verse 6. and "that "Righteousness might be imputed unto them [the Gentiles] also;" Verse 11.—what can the Apostle mean, (if we suppose he talks consistently) but that "God justifies or pardons" a Sinner through Faith?" There being no other Way of Justification for Jew or Gentile. Thus is the Apostle quite consistent and altogether of a Piece: Nor is imputed Righteousness (in our learned Author's Sense) so much as once mentioned in the whole Chapter!

(a) Family-Expositor, on Rom. vii. 7. Note a.

(b) Part II. p. 258, 259.

But let us, in the last Place, take Notice of this Gentleman's Criticism on the Particle iv (b), in St Peter's second Epistle, Chap. i. Verse 1. and which he insists should have been translated_in.

In the first Place, he is too good a Scholar not to know, that the Greek Particle in (like the Hebrew Beth, to which it answers) has various Acceptations; and therefore it does not necessarily signify—in—However, let it be translated—in: and let the Sentence be thus rendered,—"Faith in the Righteousness of our God and Saviour;"—yet it will not afford the least Encouragement to the Unrighteous, (whilst they live unrighteously) to rely rely upon imputed Righteousness! For what is Faith in that Righteousness of our God and Saviour;—but Faith in that Justification, which Christ, by his Blood has purchased for us; and which, by Faith, we receive from God? And what is this, but St Paul's Justification by Faith?—And is it any wonder, that St

(a) Rom. v. 1.

(b) It is indeed in the Piece is: But this is a Mistake of the Printer.

Peter should agree with him?

Believer, if thou hast any true Value for thy Soul, take heed of what is commonly called, imputed Righteousness!—Be affured that neither St Peter, nor St Paul, ever preached it. For can'st thou imagine, whilst St Paul bids thee, -" to work out thine own " Salvation with Fear and Trembling; to deny ungodliness and worldly Lusts; and to " live soberly, and righteously, and godly in this present World (a)." Can'ft thou imagine he should tell thee, -" thou need not do either: For Christ has done all!"- Or when St Peter commands thee, - to give Dili-gence to make thy Calling and Election fure: " Nay, to give all Diligence, to add one "Grace to another; and even to abound in " them (b);"-can'ft thou get leave of thyfelf to suppose, -that he would teach thee, -" that nothing was necessary for thee to do; " but only to plead the Obedience of Christ, " who had already performed the whole for " thee?" Therefore let me advise thee if thou art a Stranger to the convincing Power of the Spirit,

(a) Philip. ii. 12. Titus ii. 12.

(b) 2 St Pet. i. 5, 10.

Spirit,—seek for that Holy Spirit, through Christ, to work powerful Convictions in thy Heart;—to apply the atoning Blood to thy guilty Conscience;—to seal up the pardoning Love of God to thy Soul, by a divine Faith;—to make thee a new Creature in Christ Jesus; and to enable thee to "be fill-"ed with all the Fruits of Righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the Glory and

" Praise of God (a)."

Thus, Believer, may Thou and I " grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of our Lord " and Saviour Jesus Christ (b)!" May we "take up our Cross daily, and follow Christ (c)!" May we forget, with the great Apostle St Paul, "those Things, which are behind, and " reach forth unto those Things, which are be-" fore; and press toward the Mark, for the Prize of the high Calling of God in Christ "Jesus (d)!" May we thus, through the all-powerful Affistance of the Holy Spirit, be enabled to " fight the good Fight of Faith:" -and then, through the alone Merits and Mediation of the Lord Jesus, may we " lay bold on eternal Life (e)!" And may the fame divine Bleffings be the Portion of every ferious Reader, for the Sake of Him, who " tasted Death for every One (f):" And therefore (a) Phil. i. 11.

(b) 2 St Pet. iii. 18. (d) Phil. iii. 13, 14.

(c) St Luke ix. 23. (e) 1 Tim. vi. 12.

(f) Heb. ii. 9.

[ 123 ]

therefore to Him, with the Father and Holy Spirit, be ascribed all Honour, Praise, Power, Might, Majesty and Dominion, both now and forever. Amen (a)!"

(a) Rev. i. 5, 6. Ch. v. 12, 13. Ch. vii. 10:

FINIS.

ERRATA.

Page 9. Line 19. for carnol read carnal.

-40. in the Note, line 6 for Rev. ii. 15. read Rom. xi. 26.

-102. in Note (b) for συθγένειαν read συθγένειαν.

Ī.

A VINDICATION of MR LOCKE,

FROM THE

CHARGE of giving ENCOURAGEMENT to SCEPTICISM and INFIDELITY,

And from several other Mistakes and Objections of the learned Author of the Procedure, Extent, and Limits of Human Understanding.

In Six DIALOGUES.

Wherein is likewise enquired whether Mr Locke's true Opinion of the Soul's Immateriality was not mistaken by the late learned Monsieur Leibnizz.

Humani nihil à me alienum puto. TER.

II.

A SECOND VINDICATION OF MR LOCKE.

Wherein his Sentiments, relating to Personal Identity, are cleared up from some Missakes of the Right Reverend Dr Burler, late Lord Bishop of Durham, in his Differtation on that Subject; and the various Objections raised against Mr Locke, by the learned Author of An Enquiry into the Nature of the Human Soul, are considered:

To which are added,

REFLECTIONS on some PASSAGES of Dr Watts's Philosophical Essages.

Censure is the Tax a Man pays to the Publick for being eminent.

Lord Bacon.

